U.S. ROCKET SPEEDS TOWARD SUN

HAMILTON BANK ROBBED. This is the Plaza branch of the First National Bank of Hamilton which was held up Monday by a lone gunman who then escaped in a stolen plane. The bandit, identified from pictures as Frank L. Sprenz, now is being sought in the Canton area. (UPI Telephoto)

New Trail Into Space Blazed By Pioneer IV

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pioneer IV blazed a new U.S. space trail today more than a quarter of the way to the moon and farther out than any previous American rocket.

Scientists expressed assurance that the gold plated cone would speed on past the moon into orbit around the sun, where the Russians claim already to have put their Mechta satellite.

The Army blasted off the new Pioneer from Cape Canaveral, Fla., shortly after midnight.

The launching itself was called "as near perfect as could be determined." Initial speed was quickly figured at 24,890 miles an hour, enough to escape the earth's gravitational pull.

By 8 a.m. EST scientists at the National Aeronautics and Space Agency figured the rocket was 66,000 miles out, more than a fourth of the distance of about 220,000 miles to the moon.

By 9 a.m. instrument readings and mathematical calculations placed the Pioneer 72,400 miles on its way.

Stick to Prediction

At the 72,400 mile level the new Pioneer was down to 6,518 miles an hour. That was close to the speed estimated in advance for that point in the flight. Scientists stuck to their prediction that the rocket would pass the moon, at a distance of some 35,000 miles, around 2 p.m. EST Wednesday.

Between 7 and 8 a.m., three powerful tracking stations, at Goldstone, Calif.; in Puerto Rico and at Jodrell Bank, England, had it under simultaneous observation for 15 minutes.

NASA said these simultaneous trackings made possible extremely precise measurements of speed and course.

A maximum takeoff speed of 24,890 miles an hour made it certain the probe, dubbed Pioneer IV, would continue into an orbit around the sun, the scientists said. But no estimates of the shape or size of the orbit were promised before Thursday or Friday.

By 4:30 a.m. the space probe, losing speed as it rose, was estimated to be 42,100 miles above the earth. Its speed then was estimated at 8,600 miles an hour.

Powered by Juno II

Powered by a four-stage Juno II rocket, the probe was hurtled aloft from Cape Canaveral, Fla., 10½ minutes after midnight, in a launching described "as near perfect as could be determined."

Two and one-half hours later, jubilant scientists of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration here reported "very favorable" results.

The predicted success of this attempt came after four U.S. failures to orbit or pass the moon. One of three Air Force tries sent a probe up 71,300 miles before it fell back to earth and was burned up in the atmosphere. The Army's first try ended at 63,580 miles.

The Soviets claim to have established the first man-made planet in a solar orbit after a launching last Jan. 2.

Pioneer IV, whose gold plate provides an antenna to relay radio instrumentation back to earth, is 20 inches long and weighs 13 pounds. It is loaded with instruments to measure radioactivity in space and already has sent back much data, the scientists said.

But although it was labeled a clear success, Pioneer IV missed advance expectations in some respects.

It had been aimed to go within 10,000 to 20,000 miles of the moon. Instead, it will pass no closer than 35,000 miles. Dr. William H. Pickering, head of NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory at Pasadena, Calif., said the angle at which it was injected into its trajectory "seems to have been off somewhat."

The off-course bearing which Pickering confirmed was first reported from Jodrell Bank, England, where scientists manning a big radio telescope said the probe appeared to be several degrees lower than the planned path.

Otherwise, the shoot was described as nearly perfect.

The blast-off time was just four seconds off that planned for the probe, and all four stages of the rocket fired in sequence. It went into its trajectory about four minutes after leaving the ground.

OFF FOR OUTER SPACE. The Army's Juno II rocket, with a 13-pound gold-plated Pioneer IV payload atop its nose, lifts off its launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla., on a dancing tail of flame. The Pioneer IV satellite was launched into an orbit which will take it past the moon and eventually around the sun. (UPI Telephoto)

Elusive Criminal Leads FBI on Chase

Flying Bank Robber's Trail Disappears in Canton Area

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Police and the FBI traced a flying bank robber to this northern Ohio city Monday night. But then the trail ended.

Authorities say there is little doubt the man is Frank Lawrence Sprenz, 29, of Akron. He's one of the FBI's 10 most wanted criminals.

At Hamilton in southern Ohio Monday, a courteous gunman who thanked his victims held up a branch of the First National Bank and Trust Co. and fled with $25,955.

Flown to Coshocton

Later an airplane was stolen from the Hamilton Airport and flown to Coshocton, 160 miles northeast. That's when the FBI started thinking the bank robber was Sprenz, who has stolen airplanes on two other occasions.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, a teller in the Hamilton bank, identified Sprenz' picture.

In Coshocton, a car dealer said a man answering Sprenz' description purchased a used car. Four hours later and 55 miles to the north the car was found abandoned here.

Follows Pattern

Police said Sprenz parked his car behind a Cherry street bar here and was seen removing the dealer's plates. Then he entered the bar, carrying a large paper sack. He made a series of telephone calls from a booth in the bar and then told the bartender he wanted to wait there for a while. He waited about 35 minutes, but did not order anything from the bar. Then a man in an old Nash Rambler drove up, and Sprenz left with him, detectives said.

FRANK L. SPRENZ
With Toupee (Upper) and Without

And that's where the trail ends.

Police admit they have no solid leads on Sprenz' whereabouts—he has vanished, or so it seems.

But, if everything the FBI believes about Sprenz is true, his disappearance follows a pattern. He has been leading them on an incredible chase since breaking out of the Summit County jail in Akron almost a year ago.

Twice he has stolen airplanes. A seaplane taken from a Toronto, Ont. Airport was found floating abandoned in Baltimore Harbor Sept. 30. Feb. 14, a plane was stolen from Scranton, Pa. and landed near Colchester, Vt.

While police scoured the east for Sprenz a man answering his description robbed a New Haven, Conn., trust company branch of $12,000.

Charges Filed Against 3 in Burglary Try

Charges of attempted burglary and possession of burglary tools were filed in Marion Municipal Court today against three Cleveland men who allegedly attempted to break in to Wise's Super Market at 879 E. Center St. Saturday night.

Arraigned this morning, Roger Harvey Herman, 24, and James A. Lorenzo, 22, each pleaded not guilty, waived preliminary hearing and was ordered held for the Marion County Grand Jury under a $3,500 bond.

The third man, Michael Rocco Zasa, 25, still was in Marion General Hospital today with head and face injuries he suffered when he fell from the roof of the grocery store to the sidewalk. He was reported in "good" condition at the hospital today.

Police plan to take him into Municipal Court for arraignment, also on attempted burglary and possession of burglary tool charges, as soon as he is released from the hospital.

The three men were captured Saturday night and early Sunday after police were sent to the gro-

Moon Rocket Leaves Earth At Low Speed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —For an agonizing moment, it looked like the Juno II moon rocket had exploded on its launching pad.

When the firing button was pushed, hundreds of "bird watchers" on the ocean beach outside the missile test center saw a massive gush of reddish orange flame from around the base of the towering rocket.

The fire mushroomed outward and upward, mixed with smoke, and for perhaps two or three seconds the rocket did not appear. Cries of dismay were heard.

Then loud cheers went up as the sleek nose of Juno II poked out of the inferno. Sluggishly, its long white shell rose, shedding great chunks of frost which had formed as icy liquid oxygen fuel was pumped into its cavernous tanks.

Laboring hard under the extra weight of added fuel needed to hurl its lunar probe at the sun, the rocket climbed very, very slowly.

It faded gradually as it scooted among the stars but it was a full three minutes after the blastoff before it finally blinked out of view.

No New Signals Received

Position of Discoverer I Remains Much in Doubt

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Status of Discoverer I — the rocket the Air Force hoped would achieve polar orbit—was still very much in doubt today.

Official hopes of an orbit were boosted Monday on the basis of radio signals picked up in Alaska. But early today searchers failed in effort to find the missile by bouncing a radio signal off it.

A radio signal was beamed at the orbit path for 40 minutes, from the Stanford Research Institute in Palo Alto, Calif.

At the Standard Oil Co. research center in Cleveland, Ohio, sensitive radio receivers were to pick up any reflected signals, but none was received.

Dr. A. L. Jones of the Cleveland facility said he was reasonably certain his equipment would have picked up a reflected signal if the Discoverer had been where it was supposed to be.

An Air Force spokesman said Monday night that signals picked up by a tracking station in Alaska tended to substantiate previous belief that orbit had been achieved.

The 1,300-pound rocket was launched from Vandenberg Air Force Base, 175 miles north of Los Angeles, on Saturday.

African Leader Seized

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—The British rulers of Nyasaland arrested firebrand nationalist leader Hastings Banda today and declared a state of emergency in the East African protectorate.

Sir Robert Armitage, British governor of the restive colony, said Banda, 54, physician leader of the African National party and a large number of militant nationalists seized with him would be sent into exile.

Joint Session Set on Ohio's Budget Need

DiSalle Also To Seek Conflict-of-Interest Law in State Offices

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has two messages for the Ohio Legislature today. Both are bound to shake the Legislature deeply.

This afternoon he will propose a conflict - of - interest law which would bar all elected state officials from any activity which might influence state boards or commissions.

Tonight, in a joint Senate-House session, he personally will deliver his budget message which will spell out the state's money needs for the next two year and suggest the new or added taxes to meet those needs.

Call for New Taxes Certain

It is a foregone conclusion that DiSalle will recommend new taxes in a situation in which the state finds itself in the tightest money bind in the last quarter century.

The conflict-of-interest message is the proposal which catches many lawmakers at loose ends. As one veteran legislator put it:

"This would mean that many of us attorneys could not afford to come back to the Legislature. What would happen to our practices before the Utilities Commission and the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation?"

Tonight's financial session with the legislators—at least for public consumption—will be the more dramatic. For the first time in memory, an Ohio governor will open himself to a round of questions from lawmakers on the state budget.

Cabinet To Be Present

DiSalle promises to have his entire Cabinet present. Asked how long the session might take, he replied:

"The message itself is longer than it should be. After that, I'll go on until I drop or until they (the lawmakers) drop."

The conflict-of-interest proposal will say of elected public officials:

"The position of trust must be based at the highest level of the ethical relationship existing between man and man. It isn't sufficient that the conduct of government be legal. It must be as completely moral as human equation will permit."

The governor promised that a bill embodying his conflict-of-interest proposal will be introduced in the Legislature immediately.

Hits Rut in Georgia

School Bus Lands In Pond, Nine Die

TIFTON, Ga. (AP) — A school bus hit a rut in a road and overturned in a farm pond today, drowning at least nine children. Rescuers said possibly two or three other bodies may be found in the half submerged bus.

The bus, carrying approximately 60 Negro children, plunged into the pond about 8 a.m., on the farm of Raleigh Coarsey, a mile southwest of Brookfield. The scene is about eight miles from Tifton in south Georgia.

Two white men, Carl Lowry and Charles Ahrens, helped pull several children from the bus after breaking windows on the side remaining above water. Those who were unconscious were laid on the side of the bus. When other help arrived, artificial respiration saved 10 or 12 of these children.

Witnesses said the bus was traveling about 30 miles an hour when it careened into the pond.

Several white persons gave artificial respiration to the victims and three doctors were on the scene within a short time. Even the nine who appeared dead when removed were given treatment for 20 or 30 minutes before rescuers ceased efforts to revive them.

The bus was taking the children to Wilson High School in Tifton.

R. L. Mack, principal of the school, said he feared at least two or three children were still in the bus.

Officials credited the two white men with keeping the death toll as low as it was. All windows in the bus were closed when it left the road. As soon as the men broke the windows, the children fought for positions. Witnesses said more of the children probably could have been brought out alive if they had not struggled for positions at the windows.

Twelve children were brought out of the bus for artificial respiration. Three were revived and taken to a hospital.

In addition to students of Wilson High, the bus also carried pupils of the Negro industrial elementary school in Tifton. Most of the dead were small children.

Diplomatic Talks End

Macmillan Flies Home After Warning to Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan warned the Russians in farewell today against a resort to force in the Berlin crisis. Premier Nikita Khrushchev, wishing him bon voyage, said "we are in favor of solving all disputed issues only by peaceful negotiations."

A joint communique, a Macmillan news conference and parting exchanges at Moscow's Vnukovo Airport summed up the positions of Britain and the Soviet Union on world issues as determined in talks over the past 10 days.

Leaves by Plane

Macmillan, who started his reconnaissance mission to Moscow Feb. 21, took off for home aboard a British Comet IV jet airliner.

Macmillan told a new conference the Berlin situation has "dangerous implications" which must be settled by negotiation and not by force.

"Unilateral action can only lead to danger," Macmillan told the conference. "We must avoid unilateral action and agree to negotiate together. Upon that theme we can make progress."

Earlier the two men had admitted in a communique summing up their talks that they had been unable to agree on political and legal aspects of a World War II peace treaty with Germany.

Declare Talks Useful

But the two government heads said they had had useful talks since Macmillan arrived in Moscow Feb. 21 to explore the Soviet premier's stand on major East-West issues.

They had agreed, Macmillan and Khrushchev said, that the problems of Germany must be settled, and that early negotiations between interested govern-

Welcomed With Caution

New Note From Soviets Given Careful Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (AP)—American officials said today the Soviet Union has removed some but by no means all of the road blocks to a negotiated settlement of the German crisis.

These officials cautiously welcomed a new Soviet note accepting the West's proposal to hold a foreign ministers conference on the critical issues. But their first intensive examination of the 10-page note, received here Monday, turned up several fishhooks.

See One Concession

They saw one concession: Kremlin agreement to a foreign ministers meeting at Geneva or Vienna next month.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev had said in a Moscow speech last Tuesday that a foreign ministers meeting would be a waste of time, so why not get on immediately with a summit conference. Now, the Soviets were agreeing to a foreign ministers meeting, limited to three months.

American officials also saw a repetition of a previous Soviet line—that German reunification was a matter for the East and West Germans, and nobody else, to settle.

Call for Clarification

Some other demands and preconditions in the note would have to be explored in requests to Moscow for clarification.

U.S. consultations with Britain, France and West Germany are scheduled to start at Bonn next Tuesday. Diplomats of the four countries will begin then to draft a reply to the Soviet gambit.

One major cause of relief was Moscow's apparent de-emphasis of May 27 as a critical deadline. This was the date set by Khrushchev for turning East Berlin over to East Germany if no East-West talks were under way by then.

Electric Power Interrupted

Line Sabotaged, Struck Utility Company Claims

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co., hit by a strike of 1,300 operating employes, claimed someone sabotaged their power lines 3½ miles north of Worthington in Delaware County Monday night.

It was the second report of damage to company installations since the strike began at midnight Saturday.

The company's Poston plant at Athens reported previously that someone cut telephone cables leading into the plant.

In the latest incident, the company said someone threw a rope over power lines where they cross Pennsylvania Railroad tracks, and tied each end of the rope to the tracks.

A train passed by, hit the rope and pulled the power lines together, causing a short circuit. It blacked out electrical service in the area, but supervisory employes managed to restore power by 4:10 a.m. today.

At the same time, the company announced that employes who normally receive their pay every two weeks will receive their regular Friday, March 6, pay checks in the mail at the addresses they have furnished the company's employment department.

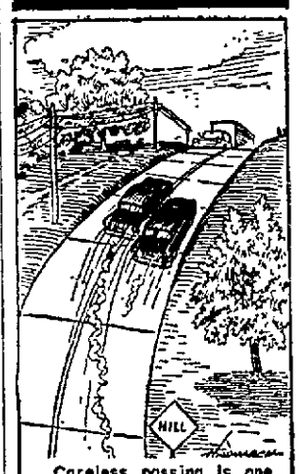
A company spokesman also announced that since some of the striking employes have voluntarily returned to work, they will receive, in addition to their regular pay, the amount of wage increases offered by the company when union negotiations were broken off. The effective date for these new wage scales is March 1.

Negotiations between the company, which services 23 central and southern Ohio counties, and the International Union of Electrical Workers, broke off early Sunday, a few hours after the strike began. No other talks have been scheduled.

The company reported Monday that some IBEW members crossed their picket lines and returned to work at some of the firm's 57 installations. However, no figures on the number of returnees was given.

Service has not been interrupted. Supervisory personnel filled in for the striking employes.

SAFE DRIVING TIP



Careless passing is one of the greatest causes of highway accidents.

It is impossible to see beyond a hillcrest or a curve, so you can never safely cross into the other lane at these points.

Naturally, says the Chicago Motor Club, it is irritating to follow slow-moving traffic near the crest of a hill. But the good driver will accept the delay rather than risk an accident. In the illustration, the impatient driver is about to pay for his carelessness.

Will Move to Texas

Frank Hempy Resigns As Marshal at Prospect

The resignation of Marshal Frank Hempy was accepted Monday night by the Prospect Village Council. He resigned because of plans to move to Texas.

Deputy Marshal Charles Meddles was appointed to fill the vacancy on a temporary basis.

Howard Miley was sworn in to fill a vacancy created by the resignation last month of Robert Gabriel. Mr. Miley was appointed chairman of council's fire department committee.

In other business, council passed an ordinance to pay George Schultz $4 a month for use of his woods as a site for burning combustible refuge.

Council also discussed possible purchase of additional hats, coats, boots and electric lanterns for the fire department.

Other village councils also were in session last night. Routine business was conducted by the New Bloomington Council and the quarterly pay ordinance was approved by the Waldo Council. Other council reports follow:

—LaRue—

Council voted to adopt a resolution protesting plans by the New York Central Railroad for discontinuation of its express office at LaRue. The case is scheduled to go before the Ohio Public Utilities Commission this month. Council laid plans to circulate petitions of protest among residents interested in retaining the office.

In other business, council discussed repairs needed on streets which were damaged by the floods. No action was taken.

Council President Damon Leffler presided in the absence of Mayor Estelle Armstrong.

—Green Camp—

Green Camp Council Monday night granted permission to Charles Hodges to solicit for hauling village rubbish. It was the only action taken by council except for routine business.

600 Attend Local Music Festival of Junior High Pupils

Approximately 600 persons attended the Junior High School Instrumental Music Festival Monday night in the Harding High School auditorium.

Outstanding music students from Marion's three junior high schools performed in a combined orchestra under the direction of Homer Huffman, George Lane and Edward Miller, instrumental music instructors.

A highlight of the program was the novelty number, "Concertmeister's Serenade," featuring 12 violinists who memorized the musical score. The balance of the orchestra provided a background for the violinists in this selection.

Ensemble groups from the three schools also were heard in special numbers.

Foreign currency spent in Israel in 1958 totalled 12 million dollars. This is about twice as much as was spent in 1957.

Howard D. Rizer Cited for 10-Year Draft Board Duty

Col. Harold L. Hays, state director of Selective Service, has presented a 10-year service award to Howard D. Rizer of 835 Oak Grove Ave., member of local board No. 81.

The award was in the form of a certificate of appreciation signed by President Eisenhower, former Gov. C. William O'Neill, Gen. Lewis B. Hershey and Col. Hays.

Col. Hays lauded Mr. Rizer by saying, "I feel it is a unique situation when public spirited citizens remain associated with an organization for a number of years on a completely uncompensated basis. Certainly the officers in national and state headquarters are aware of the tremendous problems with which local board members are required to cope and for which they receive nothing but our thanks. This service award should be retained with pride since it represents a service to the nation which cannot be measured in terms of dollars and cents.

Mr. Rizer originally became associated with the draft board in Marion County Aug. 30, 1948, and feels that this is one way in which he can be of service to his country by giving his time, patience and understanding of the problems that face the young men of draft age each year. Cutler McGrew, local board chairman, and Mrs. Edna Applegett, clerk, were present to congratulate Mr. Rizer on receiving the award.

No Takers for Long Term Loans

U.S. Treasury Forced Into Inflationary Policy

One of the government's biggest problems is financing a record national debt of 286 billion dollars without fostering inflation. This, the second of four articles on debt management, discusses this fiscal dilemma.

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Treasury is promoting inflation of the money supply just as surely as if it were printing paper greenbacks.

The Treasury doesn't like this, of course, because it could lead to inflation of the whole economy. At the moment, however, it sees no clear way out.

Investor fears of rising interest rates and inflation have made it difficult — if not impossible — for Uncle Sam to borrow needed billions on a long term basis, or even for an intermediate period like five years. As a result, he has had to concentrate on getting short term loans which are much more inflationary.

Second of a Series

MANY OF THESE loans, which come due in three months to three years, are kissing cousins of greenbacks and they create a paradox.

Uncle Sam has trouble getting less-inflationary long term loans, partly because of inflation fears. So he borrows on a short term basis and thus reinforces the very fears which are compounding his problem.

For Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, this is a bitter irony. Anderson is so vocal a foe of inflation that Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) recently accused him of being obsessed on the subject.

The Treasury chief is acutely aware that he, through his department, is helping to increase the inflation potential he decries.

ANDERSON has made a point of acquainting a number of recent visitors with the relationship between bank loans and inflation.

The secretary begins by asking the visitor's opinion on "monetization of the debt." He has found that a surprising number of government and business leaders are puzzled by the term. In such cases, he launches into a simple explanation.

Assume the Treasury borrows a million dollars from a Washington bank. What is involved?

The Treasury gives the bank a piece of paper — a government security—which says Uncle Sam has borrowed a million dollars and will repay in so many years at a fixed rate of interest. Because the worth of this piece of paper is vouched for by Uncle Sam, it assumes real value and is listed among the bank's assets.

On the liability side of the bank's ledger is written an offsetting entry. The bank sets up a new deposit of one million dollars against which the government can write checks to pay its bills.

ANDERSON ASKS, where did the bank get this million dollars? Did it take the cash out of someone else's account and give it to the Treasury?

The answer is that it got the money from no one. It created one million dollars worth of credit on the strength of the Treasury's I.O.U.

At this point the visitor is apt to comment, "That's just like printing greenbacks, and I'm against that."

Carrying the illustration further, as soon as the government writes checks against that deposit, money which didn't exist before goes into circulation.

This is inflation of the money supply.

The picture could change for the worse this year, however, if the Treasury continues to do most of its borrowing on a short term basis. The "greenbacks" could get out of hand.

5 Drown as Auto Rolls Off Ferry Into Rio Grande

LOS EBANOS, Tex. (AP)—Five women, all Mexican nationals, drowned in the murky waters of the Rio Grande Monday after an automobile plunged from a ferry boat.

Four bodies were recovered Monday night on the United States side of the river. There was an unconfirmed report a fifth was recovered on the Mexico side.

Police searched for the driver, whom they identified as Luis Montehongoy, also a Mexican national. They said he freed himself from the submerged vehicle and swam to the Mexican side.

The accident occurred moments after Montehongoy drove the car aboard the ferry, officers said, bound for San Miguel, Mexico, opposite this border village.

"It shot off into the water and bounced downstream before disappearing in 15 or 20 feet of water," ferry operator Francisco Rivas said. He told police "it looked like the driver hit the accelerator instead of the brake."

There's no mystery to finding a second income

If you want a second income, there really is no mystery to tracking it down. Bloodhounds are no help at all. But here are six simple clues that can be helpful... and may lead you to a handy second income from dividends on stocks or interest on bonds.

Clue #1 Drop in to see a Registered Representative or Partner in a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. You can find the Member Firm nearest you in your classified telephone directory. You'll certainly get a cordial welcome.

Clue #2 Once you're there, put your cards on the table. Tell the Registered Representative what you feel you can spend... what sort of investment plans you have in mind. He's qualified to help you. To become registered, you see, he had to pass a tough examination of his knowledge. His business background and personal integrity were also carefully examined. He will be glad to discuss an investment program in keeping with your circumstances. He may suggest common stocks or preferred stocks. Or perhaps bonds may seem best for you. He'll base his opinions on experience and the facts at his disposal. (Altogether, Member Firms spend millions on research.)

Clue #3 If you've been holding off until now because you thought the amount you have to invest is skimpy, the Registered Representative can give you a cheery thought or two. Many investors are buying stock under the Monthly Investment Plan for as little as $40 every three months up to $1000 a month... systematically.

Clue #4 When investing, it pays to be guided by these important cautions: Always get facts; never rely on tips or rumors. Invest only money left over after bills have been paid and emergencies provided for. Remember, stock and bond prices go down as well as up.

Clue #5 The services of your Member Firm don't stop with good advice. After you have examined the facts and consulted with the Registered Representative, let's suppose you decide to buy some securities on the New York Stock Exchange. You give your order, and it is transmitted right away to the Member Firm representative on the floor of the Exchange—the market place where orders to buy and sell come together from investors everywhere. He will buy for you there at the lowest price he can; and usually, in a matter of minutes, your order is executed.

It's important, from time to time, to ask your Registered Representative to review your holdings with you, to take advantage of new developments or investment opportunities that may arise.

Clue #6 Be sure to get the free booklet, "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS," published by Members of the Exchange. It's crammed with helpful information. For example: The records of some 365 stocks on the Exchange that have paid a cash dividend every year from 25 to over 100 years. Your Registered Representative will be glad to give it to you, or you can write for it. Finding that second income isn't very mysterious. What's more, you'll probably enjoy knowing a Registered Representative. Hang on to him. He's a good friend to have. Before you forget it, why not clip the coupon right now and send for that free booklet.

The Queen Mother plans a six-day visit to Rome April 20-26 on her way back from the African tour.

Barbara Stanwyck Jumps Into TV

Marie Torre

Like all movie veterans relegated to inactivity, Barbara Stanwyck is transferring her allegiance to television on the theory that a minuscule screen is better than no screen at all.

Miss Stanwyck has been a movie star without moving in recent times, as have been most of her cinema sisters, and when television offered professional asylum she put aside wide-screen yearnings and accepted a weekly NBC series scheduled to begin next fall.

It will be called, not surprisingly, "The Barbara Stanwyck Theater," and it will follow the pattern of "The Loretta Young Show" in that she'll perform in about 15 episodes, and be hostess of all of them.

It could, however, represent an improvement over most other anthology series because Miss Stanwyck has an uncommon respect for good writing.

"WE ARE PREPARED," says Miss Stanwyck on behalf of management, "to pay top prices for scripts. The foundation of any good show is the story, not the star. We have found several potential stories for our series, and I hope I don't louse them up."

That's an ungrounded fear. Her roles over the years have ranged from tragedy to light comedy, from den mothers to neurotics, and to each she has brought uncompromising professionalism. She earnestly laments life without motion pictures.

"They just don't seem to make movies for the female stars any more — the Colberts, the Crawfords and the Dunnes. I haven't the vaguest idea why.

"MOTION PICTURES have great roles for men these days, even if the characters are a little mixed up.

"For my series, I hope to locate scripts with meaty roles for women, but that doesn't mean I intend to avoid stories centering around the male lead. If the story is good, I'll be happy to play an also-ran.

"I've no particular desire to be 98 per cent of the script. In fact, I'd rather have a 50-50 situation, because then there would have to be an awfully good actor with me, and I need all the help I can get."

Such candor always is refreshing. The same is true of her modesty. She cannot even regard her plunge into television as news that ought to be greeted with hoopla.

"My plans have caused no great stir," she added, "and why should they? Friends and acquaintances have been saying to me, 'I see you're going into television—how nice.

"'How nice,'" she concluded, "remains to be seen."

ON THE SPONSOR front: After 14 years of sponsoring Jack Benny on radio and TV, American Tobacco is giving up half the show next season to share the cost with Lever Bros., while Plymouth will pull the plug on Lawrence Welk's Wednesday night hour show on ABC in May. That will leave Welk only with the Saturday night showcase for his "One-and-two-and-three" entries. . . .

Actress Jean Hagen, who attributed her retirement from the Danny Thomas series to one-role weariness, apparently isn't averse to being bored again. She is not disinterested in an offer to star in a proposed series called "Bringing Up Katy," a Revue Productions property. . . .

An hour-long outer space special from Las Vegas, Nev., site of the "World Congress of Flight," to be attended by experts from 77 nations, will be underwritten by General Motors as a public service April 10 on NBC. . . .

Jack Benny's latest tribute to George Burns: "He has the best comedy mind in the business and he's beeen married to her for 30 years."

THE HEAVY drain on motion pictures by television is beginning to wear out the supply, according to a survey by Broadcasting Magazine.

While TV stations pour feature films into American homes at the inflated rate of 4,500 each week, the outlook for new post-'48 films in quantities comparable to past libraries, is dim, because labor contracts effective that year provide for residual pay to performers if films are sold to television.

CRESTLINE—Sewer and drainage discussions took up the major portion of Crestline's Village Council meeting Monday night.

Councilman Paul Blubaugh was appointed to serve on the firemen's pension board. He succeeds the late John Rinker who died last month.

Mayor Smith reported that $647 was received in fines during February.

In other business, council approved for payment a payroll of $3,146.

According to the report, considerable damage was done to Montgomery's car, and only minor damage to the Earnshaw vehicle. Montgomery will appear in Bucyrus Mayor's Court.

Vote on Annexation Will Be Vital

Now that a vote in the May primary on annexation of a large part of Marion Township is assured, residents of the affected area and the city should study the background of the proposal thoroughly.

Only the voters in four Marion Township precincts outside the city will ballot on the issue, of course, but the matter should be of prime interest to city residents as well.

The entire problem of maintaining the proper level of municipal services and facilities and providing the means for growth will be involved in this vote.

Since it is our feeling that the long-range prospects for the Marion community will be improved considerably by annexation, we are hopeful the voters' decision will be favorable in May.

But even if the proposal should be defeated, the act of placing it on the ballot should prove beneficial because it will make a controversial but very important issue an item for open public discussion.

Marion Township inevitably will be annexed to the city someday, by one method or another. It's just a question of whether it will be this year, or later.

There are very good arguments on both sides of the question. All of them should be examined and weighed carefully.

The proponents of annexation in the city, concerned mainly with the problems of the city itself, should strive to understand the thinking of the opponents.

The adversaries in the county, by the same token, should not fight the proposal simply because they feel they are being "forced" into the city.

The problem is much too important, and complex, to be obscured by petty jealousies and animosities, or to be considered with self-interest as the only yardstick.

A better understanding of what makes the city government of Marion tick, and what it takes to enable the community to improve and grow, can be obtained by everyone in a study of this annexation issue.

All it takes is time and sufficient civic interest.

Demonstration of Good Intent

Gov. DiSalle's remarks last Tuesday to the General Assembly on unethical practices in labor-management relations may be getting attention long after his other messages have been forgotten.

The bill he recommended to the Assembly for enactment would be a demonstration of good intent in a difficult field of lawmaking. It would be comparable to Ohio's model law for narcotics control.

It would do for labor-management relations what no other state is known to be considering at this time. It would set an example that would have a strong influence on all other states and on the federal government.

Best of all, as a potential way of bringing Ohio to favorable attention, it would do these things in a way that could not possibly be construed as unfriendly to the labor unions, because Gov. DiSalle's proposal is to enact into law the basic points in the ethical practices code adopted by AFL-CIO. Consequently, no AFL-CIO union can oppose it on the grounds that it would be hurtful to legitimate unionism.

The governor, himself, moreover, is a tried and true friend of legitimate unionism.

One particular section, he feels, would go far toward ridding Ohio of the "unethical and immoral persons who seek personal profit in a greedy and unjustifiable manner at the expense of their fellow workers who repose in them a trust."

It would impose prison terms of from 5 to 20 years for persons who conspire to commit violations of the intolerable practices that have been outlawed. There is a vast difference between the restraining power of a fine and a prison sentence. Anyone can pay a fine, or have it paid for him. But only the culprit can go to prison.

If the General Assembly acts on Gov. DiSalle's bill to clean up unethical practices in labor-management relations, it will do more to attract favorable attention to Ohio than anything else it might do this year, aside from proving that the state has enough fiscal gumption to stay solvent while its neighbors are going broke.

Adequate for the Purpose in Mind

Walter Reuther is said to be disappointed because cooler heads vetoed his idea for a mass invasion of Washington by the unemployed.

But for the purpose in mind by the cooler heads, there is no need for a mass invasion of the nation's capital. Their purpose, which was pinned down by the AFL-CIO executive council meeting in San Juan, is solely to make certain that no congressman overlooks unemployment as an acute problem that threatens to become chronic due to technological causes.

What they are trying to sell to legislative and public opinion is a full-employment policy to be incorporated in federal legislation. An orderly mass meeting and a parade will do very nicely for the cooler heads.

Most of them have not forgotten how perilously close this country was brought to grave trouble in the spring of 1932 by a staged demonstration in Washington — the so-called "bonus marchers."

The record of that unfortunate event is necessarily murky, but at the climax of the demonstration it was necessary to preserve order in the capital by armed force, and for years thereafter no Communist worth his hammer and sickle ever let his followers forget that Gen. MacArthur had turned back the "bonus marchers" as the military officer responsible for the security of Washington.

Perhaps the marchers got out of hand in 1932. Perhaps it was planned that they should get out of hand. Americans shuddered at the implications of the thing that could have happened and broke into a cold sweat at the thing that actually did happen.

Cool heads do not want to risk that sort of thing in Washington again.

It would serve no useful purpose for them. All they want to do is call attention to technological unemployment, which is a grave problem, not to create a graver problem by filling the nation's capital with a mob of unemployed citizens who almost certainly would fall prey to agitators.

Trail Conditions Report

Could be we've been bug-eyeing too many westerns on TV, but danged if truth ain't stranger than fiction when Northern auto clubs warn migrants to the Warm Peninsula, which is what Florida means in native lingo, to beware of trail hazards in eastern Georgia.

Georgia always has been one of the riskiest stretches of the overland trek to the actinic-ray frontier. Pioneers had to look sharp for two things — cows roaming at large and speed cops. What they didn't see in time could cause plenty of grief.

There is no up-to-date report on cows, but the latest report on the speed cops says they're making hay while the Florida sun shines. They must gather in the loot while the gathering is good. In a few more weeks, the Florida trek will be over for another year and woe to that political division which hasn't taken in enough speed-trap money to see itself through a long, hard summer.

The elegant part of it is, it's legal. All over the United States it's legal. But in Georgia it's extra legal, because so many Florida-bound motorists passing through are in a hurry, they go a little over the speed limit, they're held up nice and pretty by a highwayman in a uniform, they fork over the money and they're on their way. Not a shot fired.

Moral: Drive 10 miles under the speed limit all the way through Georgia. It will drive the Georgians crazy. There's no money in it.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Thirty-four food experts voted 3-1 that a steak from a tranquilized steer is tastier than one from a nervous, fretful animal.

Now we know why we have had so much trouble with sirloins lately. The ones served us, instead of being docile, were the tense and resisting type.

In too many restaurants steaks are so tough the tranquilizer should be given to the customer along with a sharper knife.

Kansas City chemist says tranquilizer injected into a steer soothes it during the stockyard strain, causing it to lose little weight while other cattle get so fidgety they lose weight and toughen up.

The 34 food experts were served both tranquilized and troublesome sirloins in the test. ("Waiter, take this filet mignon back to the kitchen; it's still resisting!")

We have had some hot arguments over steak tenderness recently. The reaction of waiters and chefs to our complaints showed they needed tranquilizers instead of the steers. Certainly when we got the check we were desperately in need of them.

MORTIMER TOPBLOWER wants tests made to determine whether the quality of hamburgers can be influenced by tranquilizers. "The ones I have been getting, especially at roadside lunchrooms, indicate high tension, irritability somewhere and must come from cattle in no mood to make friends," he declares.

He also favors a test of cheeseburgers by 34 food experts. "It's amazing how often a cheeseburger comes out looking so tense, thin and aggressive. I demand action to bring back the calm, undisturbed nonviolent cheeseburger. I got one the other day which made me wonder whether perhaps cheese also needs to be tranquilized," he said.

Will the tranquilizer experiments be extended to lambs, hogs and chickens?

Mr. Topblower says some of those half-broilers he has been ordering lately are so thin and tough they, too, are clearly victims of tenseness.

GALLUP POLL shows swimming the favorite outdoor sport of Americans, with fishing second. This explains why it takes so long to get the man of the house to fix the porch screens or paint the kitchenette. Thirty-three million voted for swimming with 32 million for fishing. This amounts to a photo-finish and when it comes to photos the swimmers have all the best of it. We think the swimming figures wholly false, however. Of the 32 million who claim to be fishermen at least 50 per cent are just men lying on their backs in a rowboat with a few cans of beer.

The most curious thing in the poll is a table showing the women vote for fishing, putting dancing alone ahead of it. Almost as many women as men favored fishing.

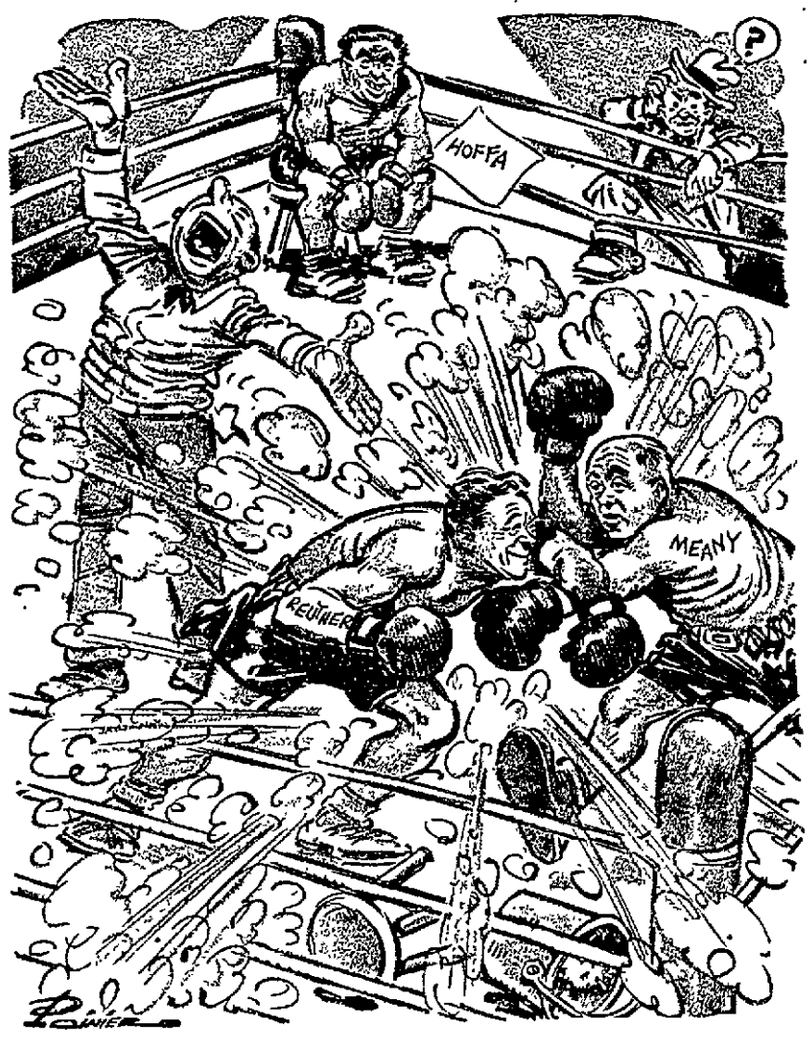
And, in This Corner . . .



Forthright Candidate

By David Lawrence

Perhaps one of the most extraordinary comments in 30 years in American politics was made the other day on a television network by a potential candidate for the presidency, but — probably because of the delicacy of the subject — it evoked relatively little comment in political circles.

Lawrence

Sen. John F. Kennedy, (D-Mass), was asked on the "Face the Nation" program whether he thought a Catholic today could be elected to the presidency, and he frankly said he didn't know. One of the newsmen on the program observed that many people think Al Smith, Democratic nominee for the presidency in 1928, failed to win because he was a Catholic, and asked Mr. Kennedy — himself a Catholic — whether the same objection prevails today. The senator replied:

"Well, I think there were other factors involved in the Smith campaign in 1928 and it's hard to isolate it.

"I would think that probably if a Catholic became a candidate that this matter of his views on the question of the First Amendment—separation of church and state — would become a matter of public discussion and it's quite proper that it should. Whether it would mean his defeat, I don't know. I suppose we won't get a judgment on that until it's put to the test. But our experience in the last 20 years, in other elections for lesser offices, has been that the American people make their judgment on a man's general competence and responsibility, and do not feel that a religious test should be applied to any candidate for any of the offices under the Constitution.

"THAT HAPPENS to be my view and, I think, the view of most Americans, and it seems to be our experience. Now, whether that would still hold true for the presidency, I suppose only time can tell us."

The Massachusetts senator will certainly find many people disagreeing with him that a man's religion should be discussed in any political campaign, but Mr. Kennedy, as a practical politician, is willing to face the fact that such discussion does arise during campaigns and, hence, unhesitatingly gives his views now on two points usually brought up. One is whether an American ambassador would be sent to the Vatican and whether federal aid to parochial schools be advocated.

On both points the senator says "no" quite emphatically. He recalls that President Truman, himself a Protestant, nominated an ambassador — a non-Catholic — to go to the Vatican, but the Senate wouldn't confirm the appointment. Mr. Kennedy says the subject is so controversial it would have "divisive effects at home" and he doesn't think the advantages outweigh the disadvantages.

AS FOR AID to parochial schools, he points out that this has been held unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States under the First Amendment, which calls for a separation of church and state.

He might also have added that many Catholics have held the office of governor in important states in recent years and not one has ever advocated financing parochial schools with state funds.

Mr. Kennedy was asked his views during the television program because he had written recently an article for a magazine in which he came out flatly against sending an ambassador to the Vatican and against federal financing of parochial schools.

He evidently believes that, if these issues are to be discussed as having a possible relationship to his own candidacy, the sooner his own position is made clear, the better are his chances to subordinate such questions in the public mind.

He told the television audience that, judging from the mail he has just received, his views are shared "by the great majority of the Catholics in this country."

As for the 1928 campaign, it is true, as Mr. Kennedy says, that there were other factors which worked against the election of the Democratic nominee. The country was in the midst of a business boom. This factor favored a continuation of Republican rule. Prohibition sentiment was still strong, especially in the South, and accounted for much of the swing away from the Democrats, whose nominee was known as a "wet." All sorts of considerations, therefore, affected the voting.

It seems incredible that in free America, where the Constitution bars any religious test for the holding of public office, there should be such an issue in politics.

Pavement Plato

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

Man has one talent that separates him from the other animals —the art of making himself miserable.

HAL BOYLE

He is the only animal that will turn his back on joy and make himself deliberately unhappy.

He is the only animal that invents his own troubles, manufactures unnecessary woes, and makes an industry out of feeling sorry for himself.

He is the only animal for whom too much is never enough.

Man survives the earthquake and the tornado, then lets himself be gnawed to death by mental gnats.

Time erodes man less than he frets himself away.

ONE OF THE THINGS he yearns for most—prosperity—is the thing he seems least able to stand. It rots his endurance and mildews his bravery. There is considerable truth to the saying, "There is nothing yellower than a million dollars."

Certainly prosperity, more than conscience, makes cowards of us all today. No nation in history has known a greater, deeper, more widespread prosperity than the American nation has now.

But prosperity has made us petulant rather than content, uneasy rather than confident. Instead of confirming us in our strength, it has tended to make us more fearful of another's power. We doubt ourselves in ways we shouldn't. We seem, sometimes, less sure of ourselves than when times were harder.

THE CURSE OF prosperity isn't that we can't take it with us when we go. It is that prosperity doesn't seem to make us happy here, while we have it.

As a people we feel a bit betrayed and cheated because of an amazing discovery: "Money isn't everything." We always said aloud we knew this, but in our hearts we secretly felt that if we just had enough money we would have just about everything we needed.

We can pull a handle and see an icebox full of more food than we can eat. We can push a button and change the indoor climate from cold to warm. We can turn a knob and hear the world's finest (and worst!) music, and watch the world's highest paid entertainers.

BUT IT IS NOT enough. Something is missing.

What do we miss? What is the meaning we have lost? How can we regain it? We set out to build a paradise and instead fashioned a prison, barred by war.

How can we get out?

Perhaps it would help if we all went out, one by one, into a hillside orchard, sat for a whole day under an apple tree in bloom, and thought the problem of life all through again.

New Soviet Maneuver

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The Soviets are a bouncy bunch.

Last Nov. 27 Premier Nikita Khrushchev gave the Western Allies a get-out-of-Berlin-or-else warning.

Last Dec. 31 the United States, Britain and France suggested they and the U.S.S.R. have a Big Four meeting to discuss Berlin and the problem of Germany.

On Jan. 10 the Soviet Union sidestepped that idea by suggesting a 28-nation conference to discuss a peace settlement with East and West Germany.

On Feb. 16 the Big Three answered, brushing off the 28-nation idea, by proposing the American, Soviet, British and French foreign ministers meet.

ON FEB. 24 Premier Khrushchev tossed that idea under the bed, saying a ministers' meeting was a waste of time, and suggesting instead a summit conference.

On March 2 the Soviets replied formally to the West's Feb. 16 note by agreeing to an expanded ministers' conference while saying they preferred a summit meeting.

This may seem to mean a Soviet retreat and that the heat's off.

Not necessarily. First, the Big Three have to digest the latest Soviet move and give a reply.

They may lay down some new conditions or, if they don't and agree to a ministers' meeting, the Soviets may toss in new conditions to mess things up.

IN SHORT: What looked like a crisis building up to May 27—when Khrushchev wanted the Allies out of Berlin—may still be far from over.

It might seem heartening that the Soviets suggested that the foreign ministers start their meeting in April and talk for not more than three months.

Three months of talk — if everything was kept frozen by both the U.S.S.R. and the West until the talks ended — would carry the world past the May 27 point.

But talks so soon by the Big Four's foreign ministers raises a point which didn't appear in the Soviets' note but which they no doubt had in mind: In a conference which might last three months, who would do the talking for the United States? Secretary of State John Foster Dulles? Hardly.

HE IS IN the hospital, fighting cancer, and at this moment no one seems able to say for sure when or whether he'll be back or whether he'll have to retire.

At any rate, almost certainly he wouldn't be ready for talks in April — at least for talks that would go on for months.

Who then would talk for the United States? Some one delegated to act for Dulles.

But such a delegate would be at a tremendous disadvantage and no one knows that better than the Soviets.

If Dulles was still secretary, even though not able to attend the conference but able to run foreign affairs, his delegate would be unable to make a decision or agreement unless it was dicated by Dulles thousands of miles away.

IF BEFORE such a minister's conference Dulles retired and a new secretary was appointed, the latter would be at a disadvantage anyway.

It would seem, for one thing, he'd need more than a couple of weeks to prepare himself.

Further, since President Eisenhower's confidence in Dulles has been extraordinary, it could hardly be expected he'd have the same amount of confidence in Dulles' successor.

So the new secretary would have to be second-guessed, probably, by Eisenhower, by Dulles if he was still able to give advice and Eisenhower wanted his advice, and by the State Department staff.

At this point the Soviets' agreement to a foreign ministers' meeting may be more cute than cooperative.

No Room for Doubt

By Truman Twill

A young friend of mine, who is going to move to a house on the outskirts of town, where space no longer will be at a premium, has been wondering whether to acquire a dog.

I have volunteered to act as a consultant in the matter, but the more I think about it the less certain I am of my competence.

It occurs to me that anyone who wonders whether to acquire a dog is not in the right state of mind to begin with and had better let the matter stand in abeyance.

There is no room in responsibility for a dog to wonder whether it is going to be worth the effort. It is like having children. If they are not wanted, they will be resented and neglected, which is, as far as I am concerned, the root explanation for juvenile delinquency. All children and dogs should be wanted.

A dog is a nuisance.

It must be fed and forgiven.

It cannot read No Trespassing signs.

It must be granted indulgences.

It smells bad when it is wet.

Sometimes it smells bad when it is dry.

It barks when silence would be golden.

It fails to bark when silence is unwanted.

It is man's best friend and does not want to be shut away.

It walks on flower beds when left to its own devices.

If not left to its own devices occasionally, it becomes an unwilling prisoner.

It can scratch like a rotary hoe with a one-horsepower engine.

It can jump up on furniture, snore, harbor fleas and lice, and bite people who do not take kindly to being bitten.

It must be let in and out.

All things considered, it is as much of a nuisance as a child.

But it also can sympathize, romp, be good natured, crestfallen, show understanding and let nothing stand between it and the human beings it loves.

It can wag its tail, prick up its ears, wriggle with joy, droop in despair, nuzzle a hand, catch a ball, beg for attention, set a good example in relaxation and be an integral part of the family.

It can share in all great occasions and make some small occasions seem greater than they are.

It is a letter of introduction to other human beings who have dogs and a perennial topic of conversation.

It can be confided to, insulted, cajoled, railed at, laughed at and cried over.

It can get sicker than a dog. Its ailments and their modern treatment are a substantial budgetary item. But it can feel so good no one can feel bad in its presence. It has therapeutic value.

It can be mischievous, merry, maudlin and irresponsible. It also can be wise, wonderful and consoling.

But it can be none of the good things unless it is wanted, whereas it can be all of the bad ones multiplied a hundred times if it isn't wanted.

If there's any doubt about it, a dog should be written off in advance as a nuisance and forgotten forever.

40 YEARS AGO — President Wilson, in a formal statement from the White House, reiterated his refusal to call an extra session of the next Congress

An alleged IWW plot to bomb the United States Army headquarters building in Chicago, the Chicago City Hall, county building, the Union League Club and other buildings, as a protest against "wealth" and the arrest of IWW members throughout the country, was successfully frustrated by federal agents and city police.

The port of New York was completely tied up by a strike of the harbor workers for the second time that year. Sixteen thousand harbor workers quit work at 6 a.m., and 54,000 longshoremen and freight handlers were threatening to strike in sympathy if boat-owners attempted to run boats with "outside crews."

20 YEARS AGO — President Roosevelt served notice that the United States would not be passive and silent about the persecution of religion in lands where democracy had been snuffed out. Instead, he told Congress and a host of representatives of foreign powers that this nation would seek "by every peaceful means" to keep religious and personal freedom alive.

Eight angry Russian soldiers ran down the Red flag over the Russian repatriation mission headquarters and roared off to the Soviet zone of Germany. They had been blockaded for two days by American military police.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: Girls of today smoke, swear, drink in bars, wear trousers, drive motorcycles and work alongside men in factories. Yet they feel insulted if they are not offered a seat on the bus.

They complain the American male is rude. They SAY they want to be treated like ladies. Yet not one of the girls I take out will permit me to open a car door or help her with her coat.

When I tried to assist a young woman who was struggling to retrieve an earring which had fallen behind a piano, she pushed me aside and said, "Thank heavens I still have my health!"

Last week I rose when my date returned from the powder room. She said, "Where are you going?" I said "Nowhere." She asked, "Why are you standing?" When I replied it was good manners to do so, she said, "Boy, are you square! Knock it, Clyde." (My name is Al.)

Have manners gone out of style? What's the word?—AL.

-:-

Dear Clyde — I mean Al: Manners are still very much in style and ladies still like to be treated like ladies. The BIG question is, where do you find these piano movers you've been taking out? I suggest your raise your sights and take out girls who appreciate a gentleman.

Fifth Rate Risk

Dear Ann: Never thought I'd be writing to you, but then I'll bet everybody says that. I've had so much unsolicited advice from friends and relatives, my head is about to pop. Please, Ann, give me YOUR ideas.

I was very much in love with a girl before I left for the Navy. She was only 18 (I was 21) but I thought she was mature and knew what she wanted. She wrote wonderful letters and I dreamed of marrying her when I got out of the service.

Last week I was discharged. She met me at the bus depot, with my folks. She looked heavier and older, and didn't seem quite so gay. That night she told me she had a baby less than six weeks before I got home. She says she was secretly married and divorced but I don't believe it.

My folks say she's a tramp, and ran with every salesman who passed through town. They knew about the baby but didn't want to write me. When I asked her why she didn't write she said she wanted to tell me in person.

I can't bring myself to look at the baby. She wants to get married right away. I'm heartsick and undecided. What is your advice—AWAY TOO LONG.

-:-

Dear Away: DON'T get married right away. Date others (and this one, too, if you feel like it) for at least six months. She sounds like a fifth-rate marriage risk at best. Watch out.

Unclassified

Dear Ann Landers: I was intrigued by the account of the young lady who was hit with the Buffalo telephone book. Please advise, was it the classified or unclassified edition? — 21.

-:-

Dear 21: What a question! UNclassified, of course!

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Marion Star, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Slayer of West Virginia Police Chief Trapped, Takes His Life

LEAKSVILLE, N.C. (AP)—The slayer of a West Virginia police chief took his own life when officers trapped him in his sister's home Monday night.

Douglas Barker, a mental patient sought for the murder of Police Chief Amos Morris of Mannington, W.Va., was hiding in the kitchen pantry when police approached the house. Barker, 28, shot himself twice before they could reach him.

Mack Bryant, assistant police chief at nearby Spray, said he had been tipped Barker was spotted entering the house.

Barker had been sought in several eastern states since the officer's body was found last Saturday. Morris, shot five times, had been dropped over a 20-foot embankment off U.S. 250 near Mannington.

A runaway girl from Erie, Michigan, who was with Barker at the time of the shooting is being held at Fairmont, W.Va., Juvenile Detention home. The girl, Nancy Jean Sedlock, 16, said she was forced to accompany Barker, when he killed the officer.

The girl said she escaped from Barker near Frederick, Md., Saturday night. She told police there was a man with Barker at the time, also a hostage.

Barker, according to his father, Swanson Barker, of Lynchburg, Va., had been released recently from a North Carolina mental hospital. The elder Barker said he had seen his son briefly in Lynchburg Saturday night.

Special Federal Agency Needed in Crime Fight

By VICTOR RIESEL

Cutting up several billion dollars in loot across this country are eight, possibly 10 or more, tightly run, centrally commanded crime syndicates—including a Chinese operation.

VICTOR RIESEL

There is no Mr. Big of crime. There is no central high court. There is no single combination.

Each crime combine has its own protection system. That's why it is organized. Each has its own defense fund. Each has its own connections—and "contract" contacts with the other criminal networks.

Each has its special rackets. Each has its band of crooked, controlled unions. These combines cut across geographic, national, ethnic and industrial lines.

That's what a group of the best Justice Department specialists believe after almost a year of studying the nation's top 1500 criminals and tens of thousands of their records.

-:-

THIS REFLECTS what the crusade—known as the McClellan committee—has discovered in three years of pneumatic drill-type probing of the labor and industry underworld.

Sen. McClellan and his counsel, Bob Kennedy, as well as the various Justice Department units, for example, found no Chicago combine directly represented at the Apalachin crime convention. Connections, yes. Delegates, no. Chicago is the preserve of Tony Accardo—at least in the labor-management field.

Thus, this array of Mr. Bigs, this series of baronies, this loose network of high commands is what moved both Sen. McClellan and Kennedy, on one side of the "first government," and the Justice Department, on the other, to the conclusion that only a "National Crime Commission" or a new Justice Department "nerve center" can fight modern crime.

Both the McClellan committee and the Justice Department will recommend such a central crime-fighting high command. Legislation will be introduced in Congress to set up a nerve center.

Call it what you will, the experts feel that there must be one central section to battle the crime syndicates.

-:-

AT THIS MOMENT there is no such pool of criminal data. While modern crime is highly organized—the government's crime fighting forces are decentralized into 10,000 to 20,000 anti-crime and enforcement units. There are, for example, some 5,000 prosecuting attorneys in the U.S.

The problem is to take all the federal, state and local units and centralize their information and coordinate their efforts—without, of course, cutting into their powers or jurisdictions.

Furthermore, most of these anti-crime units are geared for the old-fashioned slugger. Modern crime can't be fought merely with the techniques of fingerprints, ballistics, blood analysis labs and all the electronic equipment left us on earth by the star probers.

Coordinated economic analysis is needed, too. Crime no longer is a matter of just a corpus delicti—it's a matter of delicately organized corporations.

Sen. McClellan and Bob Kennedy have just revealed that crime syndicates control the economy of entire communities. These are in the Midwest. The committee has revealed that the syndicates reach into everything from diaper delivery to garbage disposal (50-million-dollar-a-year racket).

JUST RECENTLY Kennedy disclosed that his committee has evidence of mob control of some small banks. This makes it easier to cash checks.

The McClellan committee has ripped the rocks off nests of insect unions—scores of them. These can't be fought by the regular unions, nor by the small businesses which they haunt and loot. Yet these tiny mob outfits have a combined take reaching into the millions.

They, too, are part of a crime syndicate, mostly the Apalachin operation. But there are other such gnat-sized unions across the land.

Without a nerve center, without a National Crime Commission, the experts believe, the past few years of probing will have created more headlines than headaches for the mobs.

Crawford Sheriff Hires New Deputy

BUCYRUS — Appointment of Chester C. Whitenack of Bucyrus as office deputy was announced here today by Crawford County Sheriff Elwood Jacobs.

Mr. Whitenack succeeds Joe Vuckovich of near Crestline, who is resigning to take a bar-tending job in a Crestline tavern.

The new deputy is married and has two children, a son in medical college and a daughter who is a senior at Bucyrus High School.

Mr. Whitenack operated the Whitenack Motors here for a number of years and later operated a used car lot at Galion. For the past several weeks, he has been employed as a salesman at Ken Smith Motors here.

Many Forget To Attach Forms on Tax Returns

Taxpayers are inviting unnecessary grief by failing to attach Form W-2 to Federal income tax returns, William Tracewell, administrative representative and internal revenue agent at the Marion office of the Internal Revenue Service said today.

No refunds can be paid until all necessary documents, such as W-2's, are filed. Returns without W-2 forms attached will have to be returned to the taxpayer, he said.

"All this is expensive to both the taxpayer and the government," he said.

Questions about 1958 returns will be answered by the local office staff on taxpayer assistance days each Friday during March, he said. In addition to Mr. Tracewell there are four IRS employes in the local office located on the third floor of City Hall.

Free Flow of News Needed, World Press Congress Hears

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The free flow of news between nations marks the way to peace.

That was the point speakers at the World Press Congress hammered home today. They said both censorship and propaganda have been used to block understanding between people and nations.

Aryeh Dissentshik, editor of Marriv at Tel Aviv in Israel, put it like this: "I am sure that a free flow of news across war torn borders in the Middle East would contribute much to the promotion of peace. The flow of propaganda-infected news is a decisive factor in the perpetuation of enmity and hatred."

He said a better and healthier atmosphere would be created if well-backgrounded news enabled the peoples to understand each other more fully.

Free access to the news is the big problem, Dissentshik said. Sometimes hidden censorship and indirect pressures such as prohibitive cable tolls hamper the flow.

While calling for better communication of ideas between countries by press and radio, some of the speakers sounded a note of caution. Galal el Dine el Hammamsy, editor-in-chief of Al Goumhouria at Cairo in the United Arab Republic, told the delegates Monday they should be careful in interpreting events in other nations.

He said the free world press has a gigantic responsibility to report developments without allowing personal interest to color the news.

The press congress is being held in connection with the 50th anniversary of the University of Missouri School of Journalism, the first of its kind in the world.

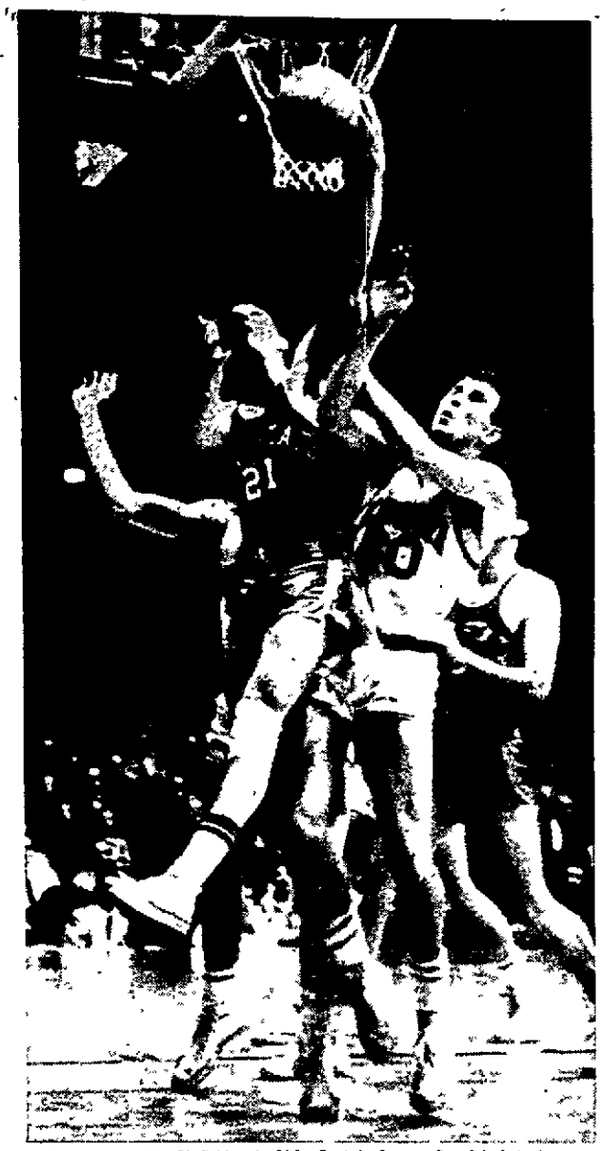
Green Camp, Prospect Duel for Spot In Central District's Tourney Games



ENROUTE TO VICTORY. Ohio State's Larry Seigfried (21) never got this shot in the bucket as Minnesota's Gerald Butler (50) fouled him. Seigfried, former Shelby flash, did score 24 points though as he and his Buck mates downed the Gophers 68-66 in Big Ten action Monday night. (UPI Telephoto)

2 County Powers Meet in 3rd Clash

There's action in sectional basketball tournament play tonight on the Coliseum floor, with Prospect and Green Camp the opponents.

The tipoff is slated for 8 p.m., with the winner to advance to the district finals in Columbus Friday.

The game has the earmarks of one of the best games played before home fans in several years, and the likelihood of a full house was a foregone conclusion the moment Green Camp upset Newark Catholic 44-42 last week on the Coliseum floor.

Coach Fred McCumber's Bulldogs, Marion County tourney kings, will go into the fracas with a record of 17 victories and 3 defeats. The Panthers of Dale Kinsell are 17-5 for the season.

—:—

BOTH QUINTETS wound up tied with Ridgedale in Marion County League play, winning seven games and dropping two. One of Prospect's downfalls was 59-55 loss to Green Camp.

However, the Bulldogs avenged that loss by clipping the Panthers in the county tourney title game by a 67-54 count. This, then, is the rubber game between the two clubs, with the biggest plumb of all hanging in the balance.

Both quintets have played impressive tournament ball.

Green Camp, in first-round county tourney play, walloped LaRue 73-45. In second-round action Kinsell's cagers triumphed over Claridon, 61-41. Then came the Prospect game for the title and the defending champion Bulldogs were too much for Green Camp.

Prospect rolled over Caledonia 70-48 in its first action. Then, against arch-rival Pleasant, which had not lost a game in 19 starts, played a bang-up game to win 56-50 and end up in the title go against the Panthers.

GREEN CAMP, in sectional competition, clashed with second seeded Newark Catholic, but, undaunted by the gaudy 19-2 record of the Irish, played perhaps its finest game of the season for the upset win.

Meanwhile, Prospect, going against a mediocre Danville crew, was almost caught napping. McCumber's boys roused from their slumbers just in time, however, to etch a 62-60 victory over their adversaries and set the stage for tonight's battle.

The game will feature some of the county's top cage stars, including Prospect's Tom Rodgers and Tim Hickman, all-county first team choices, and Green Camp's Loy Crum and Dick Johnson, second team picks by the county's coaches.

IN THE COUNTY tourney title game, Rodgers and Hickman both rolled in 14 points against the Panthers. Dave Lauer and Jack Fetter came through with 16 and 13 points respectively to furnish a remarkable balance in the scoring department.

Against the Bulldogs, Green Camp's Bob Flach rimmed the buckets for 17 points. Dick Bates got 13 and Crum 11. It was Flach's uncanny accuracy at the foul line that hurtled the Panthers to victory over Newark. Making 11 of 13 from the foul line, two of his bonus tosses dropped through the Irish hoop with three seconds showing in the final quarter of that fast action.

In short, a full house, two A-1 quintets and further competition in Columbus are the incentives for tonight's clash between the two county cage powers. Either winner will be an able representative of this area as play continues.

Local Archers Name Officers

Charles Butcher of 421 Uncapher Ave. has been named Sportsman for the Year by the Backfeather Bowmen Archery Club.

As a result of his selection for the 1958 honor, Mr. Butcher will receive the trophy presented annually by the Hinton Sports Shop.

New officers also have been named for the 1959 season by the local archery group. Tom Clark of 263 Summit St. will head the club as president. Other officers will include Mrs. Louis Layton of 538 Oak St. as secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Lawrence Wuescher of 429 Girard Ave., assistant secretary.

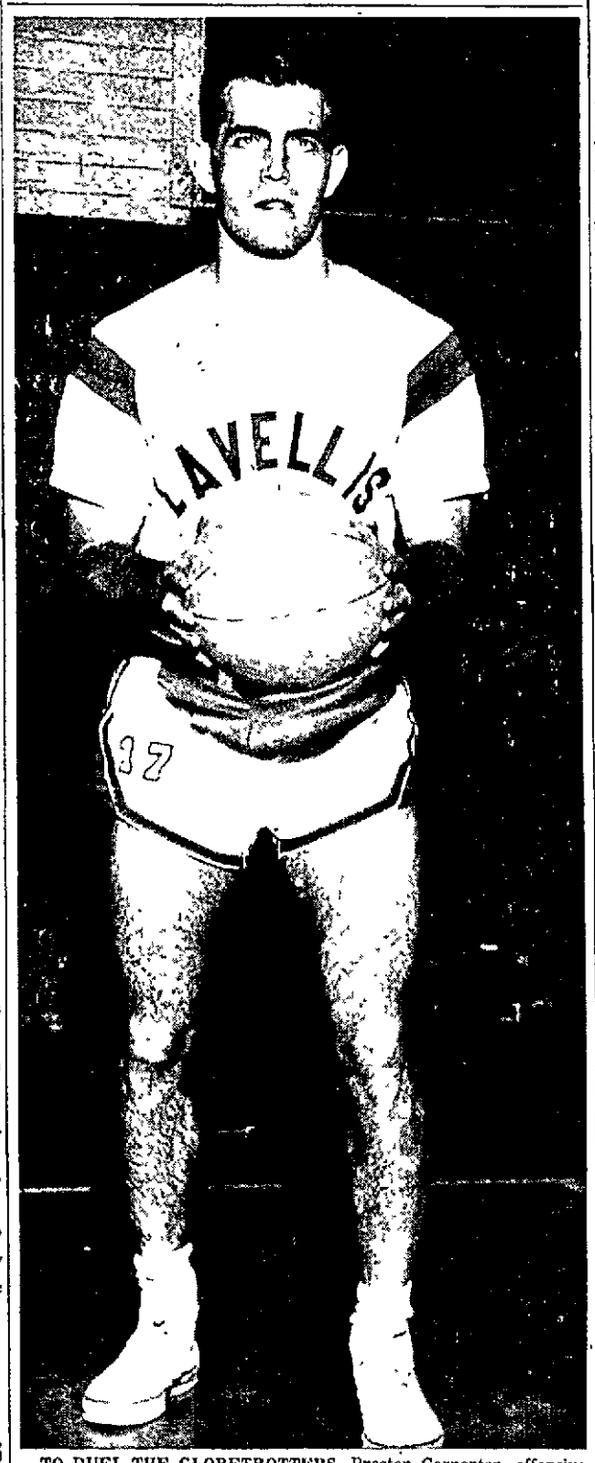
The new board of governors will be composed of the outgoing president, Alton Roach, Charles Butcher and Louis Layton, all of Marion, Kenneth Heimlich and Carl Ackerman of near Cardington and Don Brown of Richwood.

The club has approved a hike in membership dues. Memberships now are $15 yearly for working members and $25 for social members. Shooting fees will not be charged except for special shoots. All guests will be asked to pay 50 cents to shoot on Sunday afternoon.

A club spokesman reported considerable damage at the club grounds from the recent floods. The Olentangy River bisects the course and much of the property was under water in mid-January.

DUKE TOOK A DIP

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Duke Snider, once the leading slugger in the National League, has driven in only 150 runs in the last two seasons. Including 1956, the Duke had five straight campaigns in which he drove in more than 100 runs.



TO DUEL THE GLOBETROTTERS. Preston Carpenter, offensive end with the pro football Cleveland Browns, is another of the grid stars now performing with Dante Lavelli's cage crew, slated to tangle with the Harlem Globetrotters March 14 in the Coliseum. The game, expected to feature the usual clowning of Abe Saperstein's quintet, plus the scoring ability of "Wilt the Stilt" Chamberlain, former Kansas star, will be the main attraction of a two-game card. The Texas Cowgirls will take on a quintet composed of local Whirlpool players in the preliminary action. Lavelli, himself a onetime great Browns' end, has a team composed primarily of Cleveland players, with one or two others added for good measure.

Prexies Preparing For Rugged Battle

The Harding Presidents Monday opened their planning for Friday night's district tournament battle with a tall and talented Lima Senior High School quintet.

The two teams will clash Friday at 7 p.m. at the Marion Coliseum in the opening contest of district play. Mansfield, the other Marion Sectional winner, will meet Lima Central Catholic in the nightcap.

The two winners of Friday night's clashes will return Saturday at 8 p.m. for the district crown and a berth in regional play at Toledo. Joining the Marion district winner in the Toledo action will be two teams from the Toledo district along with the Central District champion from Columbus.

—:—

COACH DON KNODEL'S Prexies will carry a 12-9 record into the contest while the Lima squad goes in with a 13-5 mark.

"We know they have a good, tough team," the Harding coach reported. "We know we have our work cut out for us but we think we can do it."

No drastic changes are expected in the Harding lineup with Bob Middleton, Mike Chamberlain, Charles Campbell, George Kirk and Stan Larkin carrying the major portion of the load.

After 21 games, Chamberlain ranks as the Prexies' top scoring threat with a total of 288 points. Middleton has scored 252 while Kirk is No. 3 with 197. Larkin has recorded 150 while Campbell has a 119-point total.

As a team, the Presidents have connected on 356 of 968 from the field for a 35 per cent average. At the foul line, Harding has converted on 264 of 478 for a 55 per cent mark.

—:—

THE HARDING SQUAD finished the regular season with a 9-9 mark and Knodel's season statistics show the Prexies averaging 13 offensive rebounds and 25 defensively per game. Middleton was the leader in that category. He was particularly effective on defense pulling 118 rebounds off enemy boards. Chamberlain finished with 133, with 89 coming on defense. Campbell had 116 with 78 off opposing boards.

Middleton also topped the squad in assists with 21. Chamberlain had 18 and Kirk 13. Kirk served as the top enemy play stopper. He was credited with 16 steals and interceptions during the season. Chamberlain had 13 while Middleton and Paul Cressor each finished with 10.

Knodel's statistics also showed a darker side in the Prexy picture. The team was charged with 162 bad passes and 120 fumbles during the season. In addition, eight double dribbles, 36 traveling infractions and 43 other turnovers lost the ball for Harding.

Knodel's practice sessions this week are being devoted to tightening the Harding defense and to cut down on what he terms "silly mistakes."

"Our boys are confident they can do the job," the Harding coach said. "You can just bet if hard work can do it they will be ready."

Marion fans have been urged to purchase their tickets early in order to avoid the expected rush at the Coliseum. A total of 1,000 tickets were placed on sale at the school Monday.

Grid Coach Quits

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Paul Dellerba, head football coach at Lincoln High School here, resigned Monday.

Dellerba said Lincoln is not in a good position as far as scheduling is concerned. He said his teams were forced continually to play a tough schedule.

Six Teams Tie For Big Ten's Second Place

By The Associated Press

The topsy-turvey Big Ten basketball race, featured by Michigan State's swift march to the title, was posed with this dilemma today: Six teams deadlocked for second place.

Monday night's games, including Michigan State's 93-73 drubbing of hapless Wisconsin, made it a certainty that no less than two and possibly four conference teams will share the final runner-up spot.

A five-game slate Saturday, closes the conference season. Then Michigan State, now ranked No. 6 in the national Associated Press poll, will make a bid for NCAA honors.

Michigan tossed a 60-point second half barrage Monday night at Illinois to win, 101-95, and Ohio State survived Ron Johnson's 30-point game to edge Minnesota, 68-66.

Thus, Michigan and OSU slipped into a second place tie with idle Northwestern, Iowa and Purdue and losing Illinois, each with 7-6 records. MSU stands 11-2 in the conference.

Buckeyes Clip Minnesota for 68-66 Verdict

By The Associated Press

Three of Ohio's "big time" college basketball powers — Cincinnati, Ohio State and Dayton—rolled to victories Monday night as the 1958-59 season put on one of its last displays of glitter.

Cincinnati, leading the Missouri Valley Conference, romped to a 95-64 win over North Texas State. Oscar Robertson poured in 44 points to lead the Cincinnati juggernaut to its 22nd victory in 24 games. The Bearcats, undefeated in their conference, are assured of at least a tie for the championship which they won last year.

Ohio State had to come from behind and then withstand a hectic last three seconds before subduing Minnesota 68-66.

The Bucks grabbed the lead in the closing minutes 65-63. Holding their slight two-point lead with three seconds left, Minnesota lost a chance to tie it up when Marlo Miller missed two free throws.

At Detroit, Dayton jumped into an early 17-3 lead and then coasted to its 14th win in 24 starts with a 82-51 win over the Titans.

Harding Booster Group Slated To Meet Tonight

The Harding Booster Club will meet tonight at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Don Knodel, Harding High School basketball coach, will discuss the team's play in Marion Sectional Tournament action and will give a preview of Friday night's clash with Lima Senior in district play.

A brief business session will be devoted to a discussion of future wrestling promotions by the Club. It was a joint sponsor of Sunday's wrestling program at the Coliseum.

Robertson Hikes U.S. Scoring Lead

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, the biggest news in college basketball's scoring columns for the second straight year, refuses to relax as he steams toward a second straight title.

Robertson upped his season's average to 34.0 Monday night with a 44-point binge against North Texas State.

This gave him a 4.9 point lead over runnerup Lee Byrd of Marshall who scored nine points in Marshall's 67-60 loss to Toledo.

NL's Umpires To Meet

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The 16 umpires of the National League open their two-day annual spring meeting with League President Warren Giles here today.

Giles said this is the only time of the year when all the umpires can get together simultaneously to discuss officiating problems.

Plays Bradley Saturday

Cincinnati Clinches Share Of Conference Cage Title

By The Associated Press

The Border Conference basketball race was all wrapped up in a triple tie today after upset losses by Texas Western and New Mexico State, while third ranked Cincinnati clinched at least a tie for the Missouri Valley Conference crown.

Oscar Robertson scored 44 points as Cincinnati belted North Texas State Monday night 95-64, and if the Bearcats can handle Bradley in their nationally televised game (NBC, 3 p.m. EST) Saturday they'll wrap up the title. Bradley kept pace by downing Houston 74-60.

Two Upsets Recorded

West Texas State spoiled the night for New Mexico State, 63-75, while Hardin-Simmons prevented Texas Western from taking the Border Conference championship with a 58-57 overtime victory.

This left New Mexico State, Texas Western and Arizona State, which had already completed its schedule, in a triple deadlock with 7-3 conference records. The teams will draw for a bye, and the lucky team will await the winner of the game between the other two schools.

The Border Conference winner goes into the Far Western regional NCAA tournament, meeting Idaho State, the Rocky Mountain Conference champs at a place and date to be arranged.

Bradley, ranked ninth nationally, ends the conference campaign Saturday. Cincinnati, with a 12-0 league record, could lose to Bradley, but still win the championship and an NCAA tourney berth by defeating St. Louis next Monday. Bradley, 11-2 in the conference and 22-3 for the season, has hopes of a bid to the National Invitation Tourney in New York.

Hopes for NIT Spot

St. Louis, also hoping for one of the three National Invitation Tourney berths still open, ripped Tulsa 83-55.

Michigan State's Big Ten champions had no trouble with last-place Wisconsin, winning 93-73.

Michigan rallied to defeat Illinois 101-95 to keep alive hopes of a runnerup finish in the Big Ten. Ohio State came from behind to beat Minnesota 68-66.

Tom Hawkins came up with 27 points for Notre Dame, and the Irish whipped Valparaiso 93-65. Nebraska edged Missouri 81-79 in a Big Eight Conference game, Wichita defeated Drake 78-72 in a Missouri Valley Conference battle, Dayton coasted to an 82-51 victory over Detroit and Idaho turned back Oregon 64-58 in a Pacific Coast Conference game.

Eastern Kentucky, already in the NCAA Mideast regional tournament, overpowered Loyola of New Orleans 72-63.

Score, Garcia Pass Tests in Tribe's Drills

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Cutting loose for the first time at the Cleveland Indians training base here, Pitcher Herb Score reports he felt no pain in his arm.

Score, who was sidelined most of last season by a sore arm, was not the only Tribe pitcher to get some good news out of Monday's workout.

Mike (The Bear) Garcia, who had an operation on his back last year, passed the acid test in a brisk sliding session on the outfield grass.

Mike took part in the exercise against the advice of team physician Dr. Don Kelly, who suggested that Garcia find out first "whether his back is good enough to allow him to pitch before we try to ascertain whether it's strong enough to slide on."

Manager Joe Gordon, however, sent Garcia to slide along with the other pitchers, and The Bear was delighted to find that his back seemed to be perfectly sound.

Powers Stars In Cincinnati's First Combat

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Bob Purkey, the ace of the Cincinnati Reds' pitching staff last season, wants to win 20 games this year and play in the world series.

But as Purkey talked of World Series hopes, Manager Mayo Smith declined to go out on a limb about Cincinnati's chances.

Purkey, who won 17 games for the Reds last season, insisted however Cincinnati has a good chance to dethrone Milwaukee.

"We're a cinch to score a lot more runs this year and our pitching will be stronger," he said. "Joe Nuxhall will be better. (Don) Newcombe is a much better pitcher than he showed last year and Brooks Lawrence should win at least five more games than he did last year."

Monday's first intra-squad game produced the top surprise — the play of Johnny Powers, who was just a "throw in" when the Reds traded three front line players to the Pittsburgh Pirates to get slugging Frank Thomas.

Powers, who had a .193 batting average as a pinch hitter with Pittsburgh last season, belted successive home runs and drove in all his team's scores as his "regulars" won from the "scribinis," 5-3. He also made two fine catches in the outfield and strong throws to the plate twice held runners at third.

The National Wildlife Federation has been advised by the Nebraska Game, Forestation and Parks Commission that a coturnix quail banded in Nebraska on June 10, 1958, was killed in South Carolina on Dec. 19, 1958. The bird had traveled an estimated 1,450 miles.

Kentucky's Team Holds First Place

By The Associated Press

Kentucky's Wildcats may find themselves in the unenviable position of having to defend two firsts when they begin play in the 1959 NCAA basketball tournament.

Kentucky, which finished its regular season with a 23-2 record and a tie for second place in the Southeastern Conference, will begin its NCAA title defense in the Midwest regionals at Evanston, Ill., March 13. The Wildcats got in because Mississippi State, the Southeastern Conference champion, wouldn't play in a tournament where other teams had Negro players.

Kansas State Second

Kentucky not only will be defending the NCAA title, but likely will go into the tournament ranked as the No. 1 college team in The Associated Press poll. This week's voting again put Kentucky on top by a margin of over 100 points over runner-up Kasans State.

Kansas State (22-1) has two more games to play, however, and these could lead to stronger support in the voting of sports writers and broadcasters in the AP poll. Third-place Cincinnati also has some key games left on its schedule.

On the ballots of 104 writers and broadcasters, Kentucky edged K-State by only 32-28 in the first place voting but retained first place on points 858 to 750. Cincinnati, with only seven firsts, drew 703 points.

Seeks Third Crown

Since The Associated Press poll was inaugurated in 1949, Kentucky has finished on top four times but won the NCAA title in only two of those years—1949 and 1951.

The top ten teams with first place votes in parentheses (points on 10-9-8 etc. basis):

1. Kentucky (32)	858
2. Kansas State (28)	750
3. Cincinnati (7)	703
4. Mississippi State (20)	617
5. North Carolina (5)	551
6. Michigan State	464
7. Auburn (1)	351
8. West Virginia (8)	341
9. Bradley	287
10. North Carolina State	270

Second ten: California (1) 130; St. Louis 115; Marquette (2) 88; Oklahoma City 79; Texas Christian 62; Utah 59; St. Mary's (Calif.) 58; St. John's (NY) 53; St. Bonaventure 47; St. Joseph's (Pa.) 46.

Crawford County Shifting to Single Elimination Plan

BUCYRUS — Crawford County's rural area basketball fans have seen their last double elimination high school basketball tournament in the county, County School Supt. E. B. Treherne reported today.

Executive heads of the county's nine rural schools have voted to hold a single elimination tournament next year with tentative plans calling for opening sessions to be played at Mount Zion and New Washington and the remaining sessions at Bucyrus High School.

Leesville High School was merged last September with North Robinson High School, which also will absorb Whetstone High School next fall.

A double elimination, six session tourney has been held here for the last 10 years.

Stage Early Balks

Loes and Conley Tabbed As Baseball's 'Bad Boys'

By The Associated Press

Tempermental Billy Loes and hoopster Gene Conley today were running neck and neck for designation as major league baseball's No. 1 bad boy.

Loes, the only ballplayer ever to claim he lost a ground ball in the sun, ended another brief feud with the Baltimore management Monday and signed his contract.

The 29-year-old pitcher, long known for his eccentric actions, oftimes has clashed with Oriole Manager Paul Richards since he was sold by Brooklyn in 1956.

Asks To Be Traded

Loes signed for an estimated $20,000 taking a slight cut after a dismal 3-9 pitching performance last year. He reiterated a statement he has often made: "I'd like to be traded to another club."

Conley drew a blast from Milwaukee executive vice president Birdie Tebbetts. He has been playing professional basketball with the Boston Celtics and refused to report for spring training. The Braves pitcher, who had a 0-9 mark last year, insists he will not report before the hoop season end.

Said Tebbetts: When we gave Conley permission to play basketball it was with the understanding that he would quit that sport by Feb. 15. Now he feels he owes an obligation to the Celtics. He must feel no obligations to us."

The Braves, however, did receive some good news when infielder Casey Wise and Del Rice signed, leaving only Conley, first baseman Joe Adcock and pitcher Don McMahon as holduts.

Lemon, Pearson Signed

The Washington Senators brought two holdouts into the fold, getting signed contracts from Jim Lemon, who hit 26 home runs last year, and Albie Pearson, the American League's rookie of the year.

Among the holdouts, Bob Cerv, the Kansas City's A's long-range belter, remained firm in his demands. Seeking a reported $35,000 Cerv said, "I'm standing pat." He and the club are still about $5,000 apart.

A nostalgic note broke the routine at the Los Angeles camp. Flanked by two attendants and confined to an electrically powered wheelchair he calls his "Cadillac," Roy Campanella, now a Dodger coach, rejoined his former teammates.

Track Coach Issues Denial Of Wrong Act

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Manhattan College track coach George Eastment, a lawyer by trade, pleaded innocent today to a whole string of charges filed against him by Penn State's Chick Werner in the wake of the Jaspers' victory in the IC-A indoor championships.

Manhattan won last Saturday's meet with 21 points to Penn State's 20 17-36. The key point came when Manhattan's Henry White was awarded third place in the 60-yard high hurdles, following a protest by Eastment. Before the Manhattan pilot objected, White had bn placd fourth. White had been placed fourth.

Werner charged that Eastment acted in bad taste in making the protest, that it was unethical for him to talk to the judge in question and, finally that he should have disqualified himself from the IC-A Games Committee, which reviewed Werner's complaints.

"I see no reason why a coach shouldn't go on the floor," said Eastment in defending his position. "It's been done many times."

Two rookies on the spring roster of the Detroit Tigers were born in Detroit. They are pitchers Bob Bruce and Gerald Davie.

Campy Begins Coaching Duty With Dodgers

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — If the ill could recapture health by returning to the scenes they relish most, Roy Campanella would be a well man today.

Because the greatest catcher the Dodgers ever had is back in baseball country — talking the game and watching it and giving no hint of the longing he must have to play it again.

Campanella confined to a wheelchair as a result of his paralyzing auto accident early last year, hadn't been here a half hour when he was telling stories and trading gags with his old teammates.

"I love baseball," he said. "Just to be around the boys is wonderful. I've been looking forward to it so much."

Campy is a man with a few problems of his own — with his career blown out from under him and his 15-year-old son, David, in trouble with the law in New York. But he's already started taking on some of the worries of the Los Angeles club.

The team looks better than it did at this time last year. One trouble is that nobody knows who's going to play catcher—and that's where Campy comes in.

He apparently figures the problem is his to whip:

"Looks like I gotta help John Roseboro find himself back there in a hurry. Like everybody knows, he has all the tools to become a good major league catcher."

Squaw Valley Olympics Site Passes Tests

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—This scene of the 1960 winter Olympic Games has passed its big test.

Much remains to be done in this 16 million dollar project, but the North American skiing championships and international invitational speed skating competitions proved this area in the High Sierra will be ready.

"The North Americans were much better than we expected," declared Arne Harsheim, Norwegian team manager, in a statement generally summing up the situation.

Olympic planners discovered many things needing correction before the international games start next Feb. 18, and the downhill course for the alpine skiing remains a definite problem.

Also facilities for spectators must be finished and roads, muddy through these past competitions, must be paved.

The new 400-meter speed skating oval passed its test as Juhani Jarvinen broke the world record for 1,500 meters in 2 minutes 6.5 seconds. His Finnish teammate, Kalevi Karkinen, went 290 feet 4 inches off the new 80-meter ski jump to win with a leap 15 feet farther than the Olympic record.

Tourneys Take Toll

High School Cage Field Reduced to 134 Squads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The tournament trail has taken a terrific toll of Ohio's high school basketball teams.

Of the 1013 quintets which started the "lose-and-get-out" chase for the state championships, only 143 breezed into district eliminations this week.

Surviving were 76 of the 412 Class AA, and 60 of the 601 Class A teams. Strewn along the way, among the ousted, were some powerhouses.

Top Teams Ousted

Among those victimized were Toledo Central (2), Dayton Roosevelt (4), Massillon (7) and Upper Sandusky (9), of the final Associated Press Class AA poll, and Columbus Rosary (2), Norwalk St. Paul (4), and Newark Catholic (8) of the final Class A ratings. Also missing are Pleasantville and Dixie of the 1958 state tourney finalists in Class A, and Zanesville of the double-A contingent.

Only three teams in Class AA—defending champion Cleveland East Tech with 19, Elyria with 21 and Akron Central with 17—are still unbeaten. Three others, Youngstown Chaney, Salem and Xenia, have 20-1 records. All others have dropped at least two.

Seven are still clean in Class A. They are Old Washington 25, Convoy Union 24, Racine and Salem Local 23, Geneva Spencer 22, New Boston 20, and Xenia Woodrow Wilson 18, Sidney Holy Angels has a 23-1 mark, Darby Twp., Pickerington and Black River 21-1, Midvale 20-1, and Southwestern of Gallia County 18-1.

16 Teams To Survive

This week's district games will whittle each division down to 16 teams for next week's regional contests in which the four state finalists will be named. The state meet is slated March 20-21 at Ohio State's St. John Arena.

Three games were played Monday night in the districts, but action is plentiful tonight. East Tech makes its opening district appearance tonight at Bedford, meeting 12-6 Cleveland Benedictine.

West Virginia will play in two mid-season basketball tournaments next season — the Kentucky Invitational at Lexington, and the Christmas Invitational in Los Angeles.

Democrats Bid To Speed Action on Legislation in Congress

Hasten Bills On Housing, Airport Aid

Would Put Measures On Ike's Desk Prior To Recess for Easter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders are driving to lay controversial housing and airport aid bills on President Eisenhower's desk before Congress takes a 10-day Easter vacation March 26.

There also is a possibility that both houses will agree on a bill to grant statehood to Hawaii and that the Senate may get around to acting on a labor reform measure in the next three weeks.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) obviously want to pile up a substantial record of legislative action as quickly as possible in an effort to show that the Democratic Congress is keeping on its toes.

The Senate has passed both housing and airport aid bills far exceeding Eisenhower's proposals. Similar measures with smaller money totals, have been approved by House committees but not yet scheduled for floor action.

But the House committee bills still go beyond what Eisenhower asked, and unless the House makes further cuts when it acts upon them, the possibility of presidential vetoes will remain.

Vetoes of these measures obviously would anger some of the Democrats who have been going along with the party leadership in efforts to stay within Eisenhower's total spending estimates so that the Democrats cannot be blamed for a budget deficit. They might seek to override these vetoes and, if they succeeded, go on to higher spending.

The leaders apparently believe they can stay within the limits of Eisenhower's money requests by cutting deeply into departmental administrative costs, revamping his farm program proposals and shaving foreign aid outlays.

cery store to investigate a report three men had climbed to the roof of the building.

When Sgt. Charles Dyke and Patrolman Wayne Shepard arrived, they surprised the trio on the roof and Herman and Zasa ran to the front of the building where Herman jumped down first and was stopped by Patrolman Shepard. Zasa fell onto the sidewalk nearby.

Lorenzo, according to police, remained in hiding on the roof for a few minutes and then climbed or jumped from the west side of the building to the sidewalk along Reed Ave. and ran west and north to the vicinity of the McMillen Feed Mills where his tracks disappeared. He was arrested about three hours later near Caledonia when he thumbed a ride with three city policemen who had played a hunch and driven out Rt. 30-S in hopes of finding him.

Love Speaks To Lions Club

Shows Pictures of Scout Camp Shelters

Paul Love, district scout executive, presented a film to members of the Marion Lions Club at their meeting held Monday at Hotel Harding.

It showed the work done by Lions members in constructing the Adirondack cabins at Camp Owens from the beginning through their actual use. He was introduced by John Isaly, program chairman.

A letter of thanks from Ralph E. Gilmore, zone chairman, to the local club for sponsoring the Lions bowling tournament was read. The trophies will be presented by Col. John Phelan, local tournament chairman, at the sub-district convention to be held Saturday and Sunday in Elyria.

March and April were announced as sales tax collection months and sales tax stamp reports were made.

Guests were John Haberman, president of the Green Camp Lions Club, and Don White of Marion. They were introduced by Dave Hughes.

ments must get under way.

The communique said the two premiers also agreed on a common objective of ultimate prohibition of nuclear weapons under an international system of inspection and control.

It said there had been agreement also to expand Soviet-British cultural relations and added that trade relations between the two countries had been reviewed.

Macmillan was to leave for home by plane this afternoon.

Macmillan and Khrushchev said they considered that the future negotiations on Germany "could lay the foundations for a stable system of European security."

"In this connection," the communique said, "they agreed that further study could usefully be made of the possibility of increasing security by some method of limitation of forces and weapons, both conventional and nuclear, in an agreed area of Europe, coupled with an appropriate system of inspection."

Proposal Expanded

This appeared to revive Western proposals of several years ago that a limited start toward disarmament be made in a European zone extending on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

The Communists have since expanded the proposal into the Polish plan for a neutral zone from which all nuclear weapons would be barred.

Macmillan and Khrushchev said their discussions "ranged over some of the more important questions which are currently of general international concern."

"Although they did not hold negotiations," the communique continued, "the prime ministers have explained their attitude, and the reasons underlying it, on all the questions discussed."

Look to Future Talks

"The free interchange of views and ideas which has taken place has created a better understanding of the respective attitudes of the two governments, and has thereby made a useful contribution toward the forthcoming international discussions in a wider circle."

"The common objective remains the ultimate prohibition of nuclear weapons and the application of nuclear energy solely to peaceful purposes," the communique said.

"They recognized, however, the great importance of achieving agreement to stop nuclear tests under an effective system of international inspection and control.

"They reviewed the course of the work of the Geneva conference on the discontinuance of nuclear weapons tests and resolved to continue their efforts to reach a satisfactory agreement."

Atmosphere Thaws

In contrast with the chilly atmosphere which developed at the midpoint of the talks, the signing of the communique in the Kremlin was an occasion for smiles and laughter.

The British prime minister Monday night brushed aside another suggestion from Khrushchev for a British-Soviet nonaggression pact that would get rid of American bases in Britain.

To Khrushchev's proposal, made at a farewell Kremlin reception, Macmillan said he would join in a treaty specifying "that all disputes between the two countries should be settled on the basis of the U.N. charter; that nothing would be done by either side to prejudice the rights and aspirations of the other; and, on the basis of these principles, the two governments should agree that North Atlantic Treaty Organization and America's bases in Europe, Macmillan added: "This in no way prejudices our firm resolution to stand by our defensive alliances until the happy time comes when the world can give up these protective measures."

Admits Serious Differences

Macmillan wound up his 10-day mission expressing hope he had laid the groundwork for negotiating the cold war while admitting that East-West differences are still serious.

Khrushchev replied "The very fact that we now know each other's views better shows the usefulness of such meetings."

The atmosphere surrounding the talks had been lightened considerably by the Soviet agreement Monday to attend a foreign ministers' conference on Germany. But Khrushchev underlined again Monday night that the Soviet aim in such negotiations will be to negotiate separate peace treaties with the West German and Communist East German governments and to end the Western occupation of West Berlin.

School Board Meetings

Four local boards of education in Marion County held monthly meetings Monday night. The proposal by the Ohio State University Bureau of Educational Research for creation of a single countywide school district prompted lengthy discussions at most of the meetings.

—Pleasant—

The Pleasant Board of Education adjourned its meeting until next Monday night after considerable discussion on both the one-district plan and a teacher's salary schedule.

The board approved a janitor's pay schedule calling for $1.50 an hour for men and $1 an hour for women.

A tentative plan to hold meetings with department heads each Monday night this month received approval. Various department needs will be discussed at the meetings.

The board ordered repairs for a leaky stairwell roof over the main entrance. Action on plans to provide plastic covers for the gymnasium mats was delayed until prices of new mats are obtained.

A joint party of board members and teachers was scheduled for March 10 at 6:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.

—Claridon—

Action on a teachers salary schedule was tabled for further discussion at the April meeting by the Claridon Board of Education Monday night.

The board approved tentative plans for reappraisal of all school property for insurance purposes.

That action was taken after William Haley, the board's clerk, reported on the workshop he attended in Columbus last week during which insurance and other items concerning school administration received discussion.

One application was received for the industrial arts post left vacant last month by the death of Roy Graham. No action was taken pending further applications.

—Green Camp—

The Green Camp Board of Education Monday night decided to provide lighting for the baseball field and to erect bleachers and provide players' dugouts. The Ohio Edison Co. was asked to provide plans and specifications for the lighting facilities.

Purchase of a baritone saxophone and string bass for the music department was approved.

The board went on record as favoring a House Bill which would permit school districts to invest inactive funds in government securities. Other school legislation also was discussed by the board.

Annexation and the one-district school plan also came in for discussion but no new recommendations were made.

The board approved plans for sponsoring an athletic banquet at the school on April 4.

—Prospect—

Plans for room use at the school next year were discussed Monday night by the Prospect Board of Education. It was pointed out that additional rooms at the school will be made available because of new construction.

School legislation, including the bill which would permit investment in government securities, was discussed at length. The board also discussed plans for an eight-week driver training course this summer. The course was discontinued this winter.

The remainder of the meeting was spent in discussion of the one-district school proposal.

Farm Loan Group Retains Directors

Gomer Johnson and Burton Honsberger have been re-elected to the board of directors of the Marion National Farm Loan Association from Marion and Crawford counties respectively.

The action was taken at the annual meeting of the organization in the Ridgedale School.

Presiding for the banquet-meeting was Robert Zieg, president of the board.

A. W. Short, administrative assistant to the chief of the Ohio Division of Wildlife in the state's department of natural resources, was the guest speaker, talking on "Ohio's Changing Natural Resources Picture in a Changing World."

Paul F. Bachman, secretary-treasurer of the local loaning agency, introduced the speaker and other guests. He also announced the distribution of checks representing a 4 per cent dividend to members of the Marion NFLA.

Other directors include Mr. Zieg and Floyd Cluff, both of Marion County; Herbert Gibson and Glenn Bowen, Wyandot; and Ira Max Pettit of Crawford.

Girl Survives 12-Story Fall

Brooklyn Child, 4, Lands in Flower Bed

NEW YORK (AP)—A girl plummeted 12 stories from her bedroom window Monday—and lived.

Deborah Taylor, 4, of Brooklyn, landed in shrubbery and a soft flower bed, only two feet from a concrete sidewalk. She apparently suffered only a few cuts and bruises.

She was the fourth to survive falls from dizzy heights here in the past two weeks.

Earlier Monday a delivery man fell 10 floors down an elevator shaft, crashed through the roof of a car, and knocked the two occupants flat. He was seriously injured. They suffered minor injuries.

Saturday a 23-year-old man fell five stories, crashed through the top of a water tank and pulled himself out.

The longest fall was 17 stories, on Feb. 17. An 11-year-old boy took that one, landing in soft shrubbery on a soggy, rain-soaked lawn after falling from his bedroom window.

La Paz Group Attacks, Stones U.S. Embassy

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Seeking to calm enraged mobs which stoned the U.S. Embassy, Bolivian President Hernan Siles said Monday night American officials have denied a Time magazine story that touched off the anti-American outburst.

The Time article quoted an unidentified U.S. Embassy official as suggesting Bolivia, because of its economic problems, should be abolished as a country and "its neighbors divide the country and its problems."

Siles took to the streets and the radio after the rioting resulted in the fatal shooting of a 15-year-old student. At one point mobs burned the U.S. flag but there were no reports of injuries to Americans.

In a radio appeal, Siles said the U.S. charge d'affaires had told him the Time magazine article did not correspond to statements made by an American diplomatic official.

There had been, Siles told the nation, a "provocation by an irresponsible journalist that reflected the thought of international capitalism."

The quote in question appeared in the current hemisphere edition of Time, which circulates in Latin America, but not in the U.S. edition. A spokesman at the magazine's offices in New York indicated a statement might be issued later.

Angry mobs burned issues of Time in front of the embassy. A police cordon was thrown around the building and along neighboring streets, but about 200 youths broke through.

Later stone-throwing mobs broke many of the windows in the embassy. Others stoned the offices of the U.S. Information Service two blocks away and broke into the USIS library, destroying books and magazines. A jeep outside was overturned.

Sorority Aids Drive

Work of addressing letters to Marion and county residents for the annual Easter seal campaign conducted by the Marion County Society for Crippled Children and Adults is being done by members of Alpha Chapter of Y-Gradale sorority as well as by Beta Chapter members. A total of approximately 14,000 letters containing the seals is scheduled to be mailed before the end of the week.

Woman Took California Tot, FBI Believes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As a distraught mother promised forgiveness, FBI agents today sought a childless women they think may have resorted to kidnaping for the second time.

They said descriptions of a volunteer babysitter who vanished with Eric Flores of suburban Ontario jibe with those of a woman who figured in a previous kidnaping.

Ruth Flores, 35, widowed only last June, prayed, meanwhile, asking God to make the kidnaper "see the light of what is right" and return her ailing eight-week-old baby.

"If she will do this, I am willing to forgive her," the mother sobbed. "She must love children an awful lot. But that's no excuse to rob me of mine."

The youngster was taken early Friday from the crib he shared with his twin, Aaron. Mrs. Flores has four other children.

A woman giving the name Ann Williams sat for Mrs. Flores after posing as a church worker. Mrs. Flores recalled that the woman wore a maternity dress although she did not appear to be an expectant mother.

Broader Law On Bigamy in Ohio Is Asked

By Our Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS — Prosecution of bigamists in Ohio is the target of a bill sponsored by Sen. Danny Johnson (D-17th, 18th, 19th and 28th) which won floor approval in the Senate Monday night.

Sen. Johnson wants to close a loophole in the existing bigamy law which provides that bigamists will be prosecuted in the place where the second marriage occurs. Sen. Johnson proposes to rewrite the law to read that the place of prosecution will be the same as the place of cohabitation.

He pointed out that if an Ohioan crosses a state line to be married a second time, he cannot be prosecuted in this state under the present law.

His was one of four bills introduced by Marion area legislators last night.

Another of Sen. Johnson's bills, which would provide for release on bond of juveniles charged with crimes, won floor approval.

State Rep. Kenneth Robinson (R-Marion) and F. K. Cassel (R-Wyandot) co-sponsored a bill in the House aimed at making the Ohio Division of Wildlife pay full taxes to school districts in which it owns land. At present, the division is required to pay only up to 10 mills.

Rep. Joseph E. Lady (R-Hardin) introduced a bill which would affect pension payments by state employes barred from salary increases because of constitutional prohibitions.

The measure would give these employes the right to elect to increase contributions to the public employes retirement system in proportion to the salaries they would have been paid if increases could be granted.

Legislature

With a wary eye on the bill introduction deadline Thursday, lawmakers introduced another 83 proposed laws, including measures to:

Increase the state franchise tax on corporations from one-tenth per cent to three-tenths to bring into the State Treasury another 28 million dollars a year.

Require the General Assembly to pay the salary for a full term to survivors of a deceased member.

Adjust the merit rating of employers under the unemployment compensation law.

Create the Magee Marsh state public hunting area and provide a $5-a-day fee for permission to hunt in the area.

Designation Ohio 1 (North-South Freeway) as "Gold Star Mothers Memorial Highway."

Make all Saturdays and election days legal holidays throughout Ohio.

The Senate passed and sent to the House bills to:

Prohibit a life insurance company from requiring a policy purchase to guarantee a mortgage loan.

Tighten bigamy laws to provide that double marriages out of state can be prosecuted in the Ohio county of residence.

The House passed and sent to the Senate bills to:

Prohibit discrimination in wages because of sex by those who employ 10 or more.

Prevent conveyance of property to defraud a creditor.

4 Applications Given Okay by Planning Unit

The city planning commission approved four permissive use applications and rejected one at its regular meeting Monday night in City Hall.

Applications approved for using residentially zoned properties for commercial purposes were:

Arthur E. Probst, owner of former grocery store building at E. Fairground and N. State St., where an automatic laundry has been installed.

Harkless and Gladys Crace of 90 Carolyn Dr. and Forney Crace of Underwood Ave., use of a cement block building at 183 Jefferson St. for a repair shop.

Police Report Textile Strike Out of Control

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP) — A special force of state highway patrolmen converged around the two struck plants of the Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills today.

The show of police strength left strikers at both plants subdued, in contrast to the jeering, brick-throwing crowds that have ringed the plant daily for the arrival and departure of nonstriking workers.

Appearance of the troopers backed up a promise of Gov. Luther Hodges to end violence surrounding the strike, which started last Nov. 15 when the Textile Workers Union of America and the mill failed to agree on a new contract.

Shortly before the workers arrived, 40 patrol cars bearing 80 troopers swung up before the mills' South Henderson plant, scene of most of the violence since the mills reopened Feb. 16.

The troopers were equipped with at least one riot gun, tear gas and side arms. The crowd was quiet and only at one instance were a few jeers heard.

On the other side of town at the North Henderson plant, a similar scene was enacted. The patrol force there was 40 men.

Hodges had said he was informed non-strikers were being tormented by "goon squads."

Henderson city officials told Hodges in an emergency meeting at Raleigh Monday night that "the situation is out of control and getting worse."

Temperature Fall Predicted Tonight

Spring sauntered back into Marion County Monday, with the mercury flitting to a high of 45. The overnight low was 33.

The weatherman's forecast of rain turned out to be an erroneous one, although a "trace" of precipitation was measured officially.

The prediction this morning was for occasional snow flurries or showers today, but by noon neither had materialized and although the sky was partly overcast, the sun managed, now and again, to shine through the clouds and the weather, generally speaking, was altogether favorable.

At noon the temperature read 41, with a high of 42 anticipated before day's demise. A low of 25 is on tap for tonight, with another high of 42 expected Wednesday. "Fair and colder" is the outlook tonight, with partly cloudy and little change in temperature foreseen Wednesday.

Canadian Players On OWU Program

DELAWARE — The Canadian Players, returning by popular demand as an event of the Ohio Wesleyan lecture-movie series, will present George Bernard Shaw's "The Devil's Disciple" at 8:15 p.m. Friday in Gray Chapel.

The players have been touring Canada and the United States since last October and are the first professional company, as far as can be determined, to present "The Devil's Disciple" on tour since 1900. Although many critics believe this to be Shaw's best play, it has been performed less than many of his other works.

The play is a story of the War of the American Revolution, set in the new England States in 1777, and stars Ted Follows as Richard Dudgeon, the Devil's disciple.

Single admissions for Friday's performance will be on sale at the door for $2.25.

Acquittal of 35 Cuban Airmen Causes Protests

SANTIAGO, Cuba (AP) — Demonstrators ranged through this provincial capital Monday night, shouting protests against a military tribunal's acquittal of 45 Cuban airmen charged with mass murder bombings of rebel villages in Oriente province.

The demonstrations abated after the prosecutor, Lt. Antonio Cejas, appealed the verdict and it was announced that a new trial would start before a different tribunal in several days.The airmen were kept in jail.

The court had held the charges had not been proved. They were accused of bombing and strafing civilians as part of former President Fulgencio Batista's campaign against Fidel Castro's rebels.

The defendants claimed they deliberately dropped their bombs in open country to avoid killing civilians. The prosecution based its case on action reports which the defendants admitted signing, but the fliers said they faked them to escape punishment by air force authorities.

Seven convicted war criminals were executed in Oriente province Monday, bringing the unofficial total to 362.

ISAAC

"And he said, Take now thy son, thine only son Isaac, whom thou lovest, and get thee into the land of Moriah; and offer him there for a burnt offering . . ."

—Genesis 22:2

Abraham, who had obeyed the voice of God in all that he did, was suddenly faced with the most heart-rending decision of his life:

Could he possibly bring himself to do as Guidance commanded, and sacrifice his own son as a burnt offering in the mountains?

Sadly, but obediently, he prepared to carry out the order. He called two servants and took young Isaac and placed him on a donkey. With bundles of wood for the burnt offering, the little group set off on their journey into the wilderness.

Isaac, who loved and trusted his father, was happy at the prospect of a trip into the mountains. He did not notice that Abraham walked like one himself condemned to die. Nor did he see the tears that fell from his father's sleepless eyes, as he spent vigil of the dark hours beside his son.

After traveling three days, Abraham came to the mountain God had indicated as the place for the sacrifice. Leaving the two servants some distance off, he took Isaac and went up the final slope. There he built a fire and bound Isaac's hands and feet as he would have done an animal to be slaughtered.

But as Abraham, in a last desperate act of will, raised his knife high above his son, an angel of the Lord called to him:

"Abraham, Abraham. Lay not thine hand upon the lad."

Like one awakening from an evil dream, Abraham let fall the knife and fell to his knees to thank God. He had passed the severest test of all.

When man worships blood ties he has to come face to face with the need to surrender his idolatry. This need not be destruction of the idol (in this case his son), but in severance of ties with which man binds the idol (the child of his bosom) to himself.

In the story of Abraham and his son, who was saved by faith and obedience, we can see a pattern of survival for all men.

This was the lesson that Abraham and Isaac took with them as they descended the mountain of God and began their return journey to Beer-sheba.

To Your Good Health

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Colitis, Constipation Generally Not Alike

An unfortunately typical letter reads:

"Being a colitis sufferer, I have a question. Is there a cure? My baby also has constipation. Could I have had any effect on her?"

Dr. Molner

The first thing to get clear in your mind is that colitis and constipation are not the same thing and in general the two have nothing in common.

This is a very common misconception, expressed often, yet it will only confuse you and make it more difficult for you to solve your problem.

Constipation is a matter of the bowels not moving in proper rhythm. Colitis, on the other hand, is featured by loose stools and diarrhea. Abdominal cramps and pains are a part of the picture. Sometimes there may be blood or mucus; other times not.

—:—

HOWEVER, you see that colitis and constipation are, in fact, pretty much opposites.

At the same time, not all looseness is caused by colitis. Many such cases are caused by what we call an "irritable colon" or a "nervous colon," which is essentially a nervous situation, and the greater the case of nerves, the more pronounced the difficulty at any given time.

Real colitis is inflammation or irritation of the colon, or large bowel. The colon is the large portion of the lower intestinal tract, situated generally speaking, in the area well below the breastbone, below the stomach. While at one point it crosses from one side of the body to the other, on either side it extends downward along the flanks, or sides of the abdomen. Actually one side is the "ascending colon," and the other the "descending colon."

—:—

IF INFLAMMATION (or infection) becomes established in some part of the colon, or through it generally, looseness, cramps and related discomfort are the consequence.

The letter asks pointedly, "Is there a cure?"

To this I can answer, as a generality, "Yes." At the same time, the answer is about like saying "yes" if someone asks whether there is a cure for a sore finger.

Generally speaking, that will be correct. There may be sore fingers that are sore because of some cause so deep that we cannot cope with them, but those are exceptions.

Further, it makes a difference whether the finger is bruised, broken, cut, burned, or whatever. The cure for one may not be the suitable cure for another.

—:—

IT IS JUST as true with the colon. You must, first of all, take steps to find out WHY the colon is experiencing this trouble.

From that point on, cures become possible. But not before.

I can see that there is much more than I can write about today, so we'll take up some of the commoner causes of colitis tomorrow, together with discussing what to do about them.

—:—

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have had a pylonidal cyst removed four times. There seems to be only a little pinhole left now. It doesn't bother me but I keep a bandage there because of a little drainage. Can I let it alone or would it become cancerous? —J.W."

These do not become cancerous but they can be a nuisance. The continued drainage would seem to indicate that not all of the cyst was removed, so you may find it best to have a little more extensive surgery to remove the remnant of the cyst.

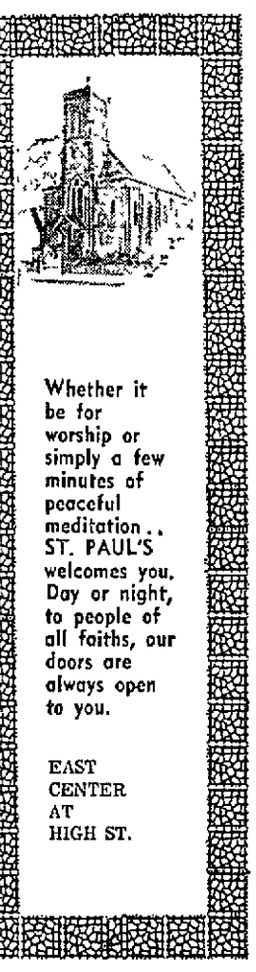
—:—

NOTE TO P.J.: I say you are going too far afield hunting for unusual causes for your tiredness when you admit that you average only six hours of sleep per night. Try eight hours for a couple of weeks and see if it doesn't shed some light on your trouble!

—:—

Measles can be fatal to young children! For an explanation of the seriousness of this disease, write me in care of this newspaper, requesting my pamphlet, "Measles, the 'Harmless' Killer," and enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.



Whether it be for worship or simply a few minutes of peaceful meditation . . ST. PAUL'S welcomes you. Day or night, to people of all faiths, our doors are always open to you.

SISTER ACT SPLIT. Disappearance of one of the Ardrey sisters, formerly of Marion County, from a Pittsburgh, Pa., motel caused the other sister and authorities considerable worry Sunday, but she turned up later at the home of her mother in Bradenton, Fla., "just tired and wanting a rest." Molly Ardrey (right), 22, disappeared Sunday after taking a cab from the motel to downtown Pittsburgh. The girls are night club entertainers. Sally (left) said it was the first time Molly had missed a show. The girls entered show business after moving to Florida from Pleasant Township. Their father, the late R. N. Ardrey, was an automobile dealer in Marion. (UPI Telephoto)
